Truman Talks on Loyalty

Democratic Votes On Taft-Hartley Repeal Will be Test He States Today

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, April 28 —(AP)—President Truman said today Democratic votes in Congress on Taft-Hartley repeal will be a test of party loyalty.

He put actions of the lawmakers on other Democratic platform measures in much the same class.

Thus Mr. Truman indicated that the Senators and representatives who fail to go along with striking out the two-year old labor law and adhering to other platform pledges will have little to say about who gets federal jobs.

The President left wide-open the question of whether the lawmakers who failed to back the party candidates in last fall's election will have any voice in patronage. On that point he suggested that reporters wait and see how it works out.

Defines Democrats

Mr. Truman's news conference discussion of the issue of party loyalty went beyond—it if was not in actual conflict with—earlier comments on Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Discussing yesterday's conference with Democratic party and congressional leaders, the President said that Democrats are those people who support the Democratic platform.

He described the platform as the law of the party.

By William F. Arbogast

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP) — Northern and southern Democrats got into a hot fight on the House floor today over President Truman's warning that party members who refuse to vote for Taft-Hartley Act repeal will fall out of White House grace.

The chamber was in the midst of debate on the union-hated labor law.

The fireworks began popping right after Rep. Wood (D-Ga) formally asked the House to take his bill, which would keep most of the Taft-Harley Act, as a substitute for the administration repeal measure.

Mr. Truman said he regards the vote on the pending bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act as one of those tests of party loyalty.

Support of the platform should carry through after the election as well as during the campaign, the President said. He added that he stands squarely behind the platform and expects other loyal Democrats to do likewise.

A Democratic Pledge

The platform contains a Democratic pledge to support the enactment of civil rights legislation. Southern opposition to Mr. Truman's proposals for anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and anti-job discrimination split the party wide open in the last campaign.

Mr. Truman's news conference statement left a question on just how much say on federal jobs will be given to congressmen who jumped the reservation last fall.

The President was asked if patronage will be denied to members of Congress who gave support to the Thurmond-Wright States' Rights ticket.

Just wait and see how the thing works out, the President said, adding that he thinks the question will answer itself as time goes on.

Jobs Involved

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath told reporters after a conference with the President yesterday that jobs will be denied to persons who opposed Mr. Truman in the general election campaign or who made nasty remarks in public about the President in connection with his civil rights program.

McGrath said, however, that members of Congress will con-

Displays Bruises

Robert McClary, 6, of St. Louis, displays his bruises to his sister, Betty, 8, and Oliver Wallace, a policeman, after the children were rushed to a hospital following a beating which their mother gave them with a small bath room hose. Authorities said both children were beaten on the lower part of the body and that they suffered bruises and possible internal injuries. The mother, Mrs. Elva McClary, 32, was arrested after neighbors called the police. Officer Wallace holds the hose. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Drive-in Theatre Opens Friday Night

The 50-Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre will officially open Friday night, and the picture will start just as soon as the sun goes downs and it is dark enough to throw the projector on the giant screen.

It was to have opened tonight, but finishing touches were not completed, due to the rain the first of the week, which delayed surfacing the parking space.

Now everything is in perfect order to serve movie-goers, it was announced by the management this morning.

A Parking Problem

ARDMORE, Okla., April 28—(AP)—Two policemen walking their beats took a second look, then ran for the statute book.

They wanted to know if it was illegal to park an elephant at the curb.

The elephant, belonging to a carnival was left at the curb between cars while the owner went shopping.

The policemen could find nothing out of order—the elephant's owner had put a nickel in the parking meter.

Youth Killed In Car Wreck

MT. STERLING, Mo., April 28—(AP)—Keith Sloan, 17, of Kansas City, Mo., was killed early today when the car in which he was riding struck guard rails on the bridge over the Gasconade river here.

The state highway patrol reported the automobile was driven east on U. S. 50 by Ted Pickett, Jr., 17 of Kansas City. The report indicated Pickett lost control of the vehicle. It swerved off the highway on one side of the bridge then back to the other side where the guard rail was hit and again to the other side.

Pickett was apparently uninjured, the patrol said.

'Mert,' 5-Week-Old Chicken, Has Four Legs

"Mert," a four-legged chicken, now five weeks old, shows good possibilities of growing up into a nice Sunday dinner of chicken fricassee.

The fowl, owned by Mrs. Harry Yoder, who resides on a farm, nine miles west of Sedalia is just as normal as any other chicken with the exception of having four feet. Mrs. Yoder reports that "Mert" was one out of a flock of 150 chicks hatched five weeks ago last Tuesday.

She said up until recently the chicken had been kept in the house for its own protection. It seems as if "Mert's" brothers and sisters got a kick out of pecking away on the extra pair of legs, but now the freak chicken is capable of taking care of itself and runs lose with the rest of the family inside the brooder house.

Well Developed

It's uncommon to see four legs on chickens, but it has happened before. An expert on chickens said this morning that this was the first one that he saw that was so well developed.

From the base of the chicken's spine is a stalk composed of flesh and bone which branches out into two separate and distinct pairs of feet. The front set of legs are normal, but the two rear sets are incapable of being moved due to the lack of muscle power.

Perfectly normal toes are on the front set of legs, but the rear feet are composed of immature toes.

$20 Borrowed in 1918 Paid Today

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., April 28—(AP)—Walter Jett, local merchant, today received $20 which he was told was borrowed from him back in 1918.

"I'm not saying who the borrower was," Jett explained, "but he told me he would feel better if I took the money which he said was an honest debt.

"I assured him it wouldn't make me feel any worse," Jett smiled, "and I took the twenty."

Bill Introduced Would Permit Teachers to Paddle Students

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—School teachers ought to have the legal right to paddle a naughty pupil, Rep. Clide Lee Jenkins (R) of Miller county said today.

He introduced a bill to put that right in the law books.

Just last Saturday a school principal and superintendent in Jenkins' home county got fined $10 a piece because one of them whipped a 14 year old boy with a walnut paddle. A jury found them guilty of common assault.

Jenkins' bill provides that a teacher has the right to keep discipline. It reads in part:

"Any such teacher may inflict reasonable physical punishment or restraint upon any pupil who defies the teacher, or the rules and regulations of the board of education, or who intentionally tries to demoralize the school by swearing, fighting or other obnoxious and obscene speech or conduct."

Jenkins said there is no adequate Missouri law now.

In a statement he added:

"If the school teachers in this state cannot discipline their pupils 'if necessary, to the tune of a hickory stick' the teaching profession had just as well fold up, move out and turn our school over to the pupils.

"When I was a youngster," he recalled, "if I got a whipping in school, regardless of what the reason might be, I also got one at home . . .

"But nowadays if a child is given a whipping in school it is usually necessary for the teacher to give the child's parents a whipping also."

Leland O. Mills, superintendent of the School of the Osage, Lake Ozark, Mo., and Burl Henderson, principal, were fined $10 each for paddling Dale Jeffries. They said Dale wrote some bad words in a school book. Dale said he didn't. His parents took it to court.

Bloody Killing Of Three in Philippines

Widow of First President, Her Daughter, Grandson

By Spencer Davis

MANILA, April 28—(AP)—Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the Philippines' first president, her daughter and grand son were killed today in a bloody machine gun ambuscade that brought death to 10 persons.

Ten others were wounded.

President Elpidio Quirino, notified of the ambush in the mountains or northern Luzon, ordered an immediate campaign against the killers, whom he identified as bandits.

The Quezon party, with an armed constabulary escort, left Manila shortly after 5 a. m. local time for Baler on the northeast coast of Luzon. The 60-year-old widow was to have unveiled a marker in memory of her husband, Manuel Quezon.

Incomplete reports here said the party was moving through a narrow gorge of the Sierra Madre mountains 88 airline miles from Manila when a burst of machine gun fire riddled the first two automobiles. They carried Mrs. Quezon and her immediate party.

Troopers Returned Fire

Constabulary troopers returned the fire. There was a sharp fight in which the troopers suffered three dead and seven wounded.

The remaining members of the party were forced to retreat and raced back to the village of Bangbong, where constabulary reinforcements were called.

Later at the scene of the ambush the constabulary found the bodies of Mrs. Quezon, her daughter, Maria Aurora (baby) Quezon and the mortally wounded Felipe Buencamino, III, 28 husband of Mrs. Quezon's youngest daughter, Zenaida.

The wounded included Maj. Gen. Rafael Jalandoni, retired army chief of staff, who notified President Quirino and the Philippine Red Cross of the ambush.

Campaign Against Bandits

In Baguio President Quierino ordered the constabulary and Army to rush reinforcements to trouble Nueva Ecija province to undertake a general campaign against bandits. The President said he could not believe the attack had been led by Communist directed armed peasants. Called Hukbalahaps.

He said Mrs. Quezon was loved too much by these people to be harmed by them.

There were reports that the bodies had been looted of jewelry and valuables. Quirino said this was a further indication that the attackers were bandits and not Huks.

Only last week the President had announced that the Huks had been broken into small, ineffective bands and reduced to marauding for food.

News of Mrs. Quezon's death spread like wildfire through Manila and over radio networks throughout the islands.

There was evidence of shock and anger from Filipinos.

Traffic Accident Near Warrensburg

WARRENSBURG, Mo., April 28—(AP)—The Rev. Hilda Louise Eilers, St. Louis (5052 Oletha Ave.) was injured seriously today in a traffic accident on U. S. highway 50 west of here.

The minister, representing the Unity School of Christianity, was enroute to Kansas City when her car and one driven by Nap Bert Hamer, Gravois Mills, Mo., collided. She suffered shock, a cut on her forehead and possible internal injuries physicians said.

Hammer, operator of a resort on the Lake of the Ozarks, and Mrs. Hammer escaped with bruises. Both cars were demolished.

Cool Weather Over Wide Area

CHICAGO, April 28 —(AP)—There was rain and cool weather over wide areas of the country today.

Temperatures dipped below freezing in Michigan, hitting 24 at Grand Marais and 25 at Cadillac and Pellston. The cool air extended from northern Michigan eastward to northern New England.

There were several wet spots. One rain belt several hundred miles wide covered areas from the Carolinas and Virginia westsouthwestward to Texas.

The mercury registered 83 at Williston, N. D., yesterday. The nation's top marks, however, were 99 at Phoenix and 98 at Yuma, Ariz.

St. Louis City Hall Truce in Making

ST. LOUIS, April 28—(AP)— A truce of some kind was in the making at the city hall today and it looked as if the feuding party factions of the board of aldermen might get together soon.

Some of the Democratic and Republican members met together and the Democrats came out smiling. One said "I think we are going to come to terms."

For ten days the board has been deadlocked in a fight over legal qualifications of two newly-elected Democrats. Their votes give the Democrats a 15 to 14 majority.

Donaldson to Visit Air Field

Confirming a statement made at Warrensburg in June 1948, that he would return to Missouri this spring to discuss the progress and future of the Sedalia Army Air Field, Scott Donaldson, assistant to Secretary of Air Stuart Symington, is coming to Missouri on May 18. He will fly from Washington D. C., arriving at the SAAF shortly before noon.

Edwin C. Houx, chairman of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce Air Base Committee, talked with Mr. Donaldson by telephone and at that time he stated he would fly to Missouri and discuss the air field.

A delegation from Knob Noster Warrensburg, Sedalia and possibly several from other localities will meet Mr. Donaldson at the air field and go to Warrensburg for dinner at Riggle's.

They will then tour Warrensburg Sedalia, and other towns in the vicinity where building has progressed over the past eleven months, which is of interest to the Air Forces in connection with their housing project and request.

Students Stop Here on 'Sneak' To The Ozarks

Bus Driver Sneaks Away From Them, But They Have Fun

Teen-age boys and girls in jeans and bright colored sweaters and jackets swarmed like bees around the corner of Main street and Osage avenue this morning and for a radius of about two blocks in every direction.

It was "Sneak Day" for seniors in the Olathe, Kas., high school, which is the day they sneak off from the school without letting the other classes know they are going, for a trip. This trip was to Bagnell dam and plans were that the 67 students, along with C. H. Branson, principal of the school; C. M. McBurney, sponsor of the senior class and Mrs. McBurney; and Miss Thelma Pierce and Miss Kathleen Fajen, faculty members, would stop in Sedalia for breakfast.

Two big busses left Olathe at 4 o'clock this morning and arrived in Sedalia a little before 7 o'clock. Upon reaching here one bus developed a little trouble and went to a garage for repairs and the other bus, with two drivers, just left, apparently to look the town over.

Idea Reversed

The idea of "Sneak Day" was reversed on the seniors, the bus sneaked away and didn't come back for two hours. According to one of the boys the bus that went for repairs returned within a short time but the other bus didn't and instead of leaving Sedalia at 7:20 as was planned it was about 9:20. They even asked the police to help them find the bus, some of the girls said.

The northeast corner of Main and Osage was lined with youngsters, both standing on the corner and sitting on the curb. Some of the boys and girls were in the bus that had returned and many of them were in one of the waiting rooms of the Missouri Pacific depot nearby. Some visited the police station and some wandered up and down the streets.

They fussed and fumed about the missing bus but they were having fun just the same. They played with gay colored balloons, balls on long rubber bands and read comic books. They investigated everything that looked interesting and watched the streamliner come in and go out.

One of the boys with a ball on a rubber was circling it around when he saw a woman coming that he was sure to hit unless he did something fast. He did. He swung it a little to one side and wrapped it around a parking meter.

Some of the girls were not only disturbed that the bus was gone, but with it were their lunches. They wondered if the bus would come back and if it did would their lunches still be there.

Welfare Group Meeting in J.C.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—Robert E. Rosenwald, Kansas City lawyer, was elected president of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare at the group's annual meeting here today.

Rosenwald replaces True Taylor of St. Louis, who will be first vice president for the coming year. Taylor is superintendent of Bethesda General hospital in St. Louis.

Other new officers are: Thelma Mills of Columbia, second vice president, Chester Stovall of St. Louis, reelected treasurer and Thomas W. Fetzer of Kansas City, secretary.

More than 500 members have registered at the three-day meeting. Its main theme is state planning and action in fields of health and welfare.

Parliamentary Drill For Music Club Women

State Convention Into Second Day Of 3-Day Meeting

The second day of the Missouri State Federation of Music Clubs convention opened at the First Methodist church this morning at 9:00 o'clock. The program started with a parliamentary drill, presided over by Mrs. Frederick S. Haeberle, of St. Louis, registered parliamentarian. The various procedures were discussed and questions were answered by the speaker. The meeting adjourned at noon and reconvened at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon, with a choral forum, president over by Mrs. Otto Grasse, Kansas City, choral chairman.

Dr. Delbert Johnson, of Kansas City gave an address on Civic Music.

The climax of the afternoon's session was a Choral program presented by the Singing Scouts, of Sedalia; the Olive Ewing Dallmeyer Club, of Jefferson; the Helen G. Steele Music Club of Sedalia; and the Clef Ensemble, of Kansas City.

The convention will resume activities at the Federation Banquet that will be held this evening at the First Methodist church.

Wednesday Night Program

The program before the convention of the Missouri State Federation of Music Clubs Wednesday night at the First Methodist church was both pleasing and inspiring.

Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau, state chairman of Music in Religious Education, presided.

A processional by the A Cappella Choir of Missouri Valley College of Marshall preceded the singing of several hymns led by Louis A. Hansen, director of the A Cappella choir and accompanied on the organ by Vincent C. Robbins of Kansas City. The voices of the audience joined with those of the choir in singing those songs of the church was truly heart warming.

Panel Discussion

Miss Miller gave a short talk on "The Importance of Music in Everyday Living," after which there was a panel discussion on "The Importance of Music in the Worship Service." The following took part in the discussion: Dean Claude Fichchorn of Missouri Valley college gave the choir director's viewpoint; Rev. J. F. King of the First Methodist church told what the minister expected in his church music and Henry Salveter, a lawyer, presented the layman's attitude.

Dean Fichchorn gave Bach's definition of what church music should be. "Church music should be for the glory of God and for pleasant recreation." This set the theme for the program which followed. Both the organist and the choir presented a varied program of the highest type of church numbers. All numbers were well presented and graciously received. This program, one of the highlights of the convention, closed Wednesday's meeting.

Preliminary Drill

This morning, Mrs. Frederick S. Haeberle, of St. Louis, conducted a preliminary drill. Mrs. Haeberle is recording secretary of the National Association of Parliamentarians. She organized and is president of the St. Louis unit of the N. A. P.

At a business meeting, following the drill, Mrs. Duensing, presided and received reports of the various committees.

Bill Giving State Power to Condemn Land

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to give the state power to condemn land in Jefferson City for a new state office building.

It authorizes the board of public buildings to acquire the necessary land by gift, purchase or eminent domain (condemnation).

A $2,000,000 appropriation was passed last session to construct the building. Recently, however, it has been suggested with present construction costs it may take $3,000,000.

Planning For Convention

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—The administration plans for a vast expansion of Social Security has picked up strong support on the House ways and means committee, a spot survey showed today.

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—President Truman declared today the Navy is amply prepared to remove all Americans from Shanghai.

The President told a news conference he understood there were reports the Navy had run out on American civilians at Shanghai, now threatened by Chinese Communists.

Speaking solemnly, he said there is no foundation in fact for any such report.

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—America's chief delegate to the United Nations told Senators today the North Atlantic pact will strengthen the U. N. and "increase its ability to remove causes of war."

Warren R. Austin made the statement before the Senate foreign relations committee in urging approval of the treaty as a step towards peace.

He firmly denied the 12-nation alliance would destroy the United Nations or weaken its efforts toward international unity.

"If the North Atlantic treaty is operated according to the letter and spirit, both of the (United Nations) charter and of the treaty," he said, "it can lift the cause of peace above any level yet attained."

Suggests Fine For Not Calling Firemen

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 28—(AP)—A $100 fine for hotel operators who fail to call the fire department in case of fire, and a $50 fine for individuals who set beds afire by smoking were proposed to the city council today by Fire Chief John Smyth.

The chief said hotels have failed to heed past requests to summon the department at once in the event of fire preferring to use their own equipment rather than risk disturbance of their guests. Such equipment, said Chief Smyth, "is supposed to be used while the fire department is on the way, not before it is called."

Governor Answers Minister Giving Stand on Gambling

ST. LOUIS, April 28 — (AP) — Gov. Forrest Smith said today he is opposed to commercialized gambling and has previously made known his views on it.

The statement was in a telegram to the Rev. Holland B. London, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of St. Louis, who had asked the governor to clarify his position on commercialized gambling.

"I am somewhat nonplused at your statement in the telegram saying there are thousands who in questioning regarding my stand," the governor said in a statement, as released by the pastor.

"I am at a loss to know how anyone that read my inaugural address or listened to it could have formed the opinion that you stated in your telegram.

"It is true that I did not mention commercialized gambling, but I made my statement all inclusive when I stated I would strictly enforce all laws. It may be you became confused by reading untrue, malicious and innuendo newspaper articles that were not backed up by facts.

"Rev. London, I am opposed to commercialized gambling, murder, rape, arson and all other violations, and none of these will be violated during the time that I am governor with my knowledge and consent.

"Appreciate getting your telegram and giving me an opportunity to again repeat my policy on law enforcement."

Mr. London, who has been preaching against gambling, said he intends to ask the governor "why there are so many places of commercialized gambling open in St. Louis."

Russian Feelers Sincere

Is Opinion of President Truman; Escape Gate From Shanghai Closing

By The Associated Press

President Truman said today he thinks the Russians are acting in good faith in their new moves toward lifting the Berlin blockade.

The President told Washington newsmen that if he didn't believe the Russian feelers were advanced in earnest, the United States would not be continuing conversations on the matter.

These talks have reached a decisive stage with the next move up to the Russians.

In Berlin itself East-West relations received a jolt today when armed British military police seized control of three canal locks in the British sector after the Russians made a vain attempt to take over the locks.

Claim Waterway

The Russians claim control of Berlin waterways. They ordered their lock keeper to prevent craft from entering or leaving the locks without showing registration with the Soviet water control. The Soviets tried a similar move yesterday, but rescinded it after a British protest.

The Russians are expected to specify soon whether their only condition for ending the Berlin blockade is western agreement to a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

The western powers already have shown their willingness to join such a meeting, once Berlin conditions are restored to normal.

An Associated Press dispatch from Moscow said diplomats there considered Russia and the three western powers may have made a start toward a new stage of mutual relations.

Quote Semionov

In Berlin, the anti-Communist newspaper Sozialdemokrat quoted Soviet Ambassador V. S. Seminonov as saying the Russian blockade of Berlin has failed with "great loss of prestige" to Russia and German Communists.

There was no confirmation of the report from any other source.

Elsewhere in the World

The escape gate from Communist-threatened Shaighai began closing slowly. For foreigners the last ships were preparing to get underway. For the Chinese, land routes were coming under air domination. Airplanes still evacuated refugees.

Some 150 Americans were taken down the Whangpoo river today aboard the American liner President Wilson. About 1,500 other Americans have elected to remain in Shanghai.

U. S. naval craft moored down the river, out of range of Communist shore guns, may leave tonight or tomorrow, an officer said.

British warships still are in the Yangtze and Whagpoo, but the British are not undertaking emergency evacuations.

Latest reports place the Reds at least 30 miles from Shanghai. The Communists seem to be taking their time, possibly because they want an adequate force at hand when they enter Shanghai—the world's fourth largest city.

Three Spearheads Toward China

The Communists appear to have three spearheads moving towards objectives around Shanghai. One approaching Shanghai itself is said to contain about 40,000 men. One going from Soochow toward Hangchow, 85 miles south of Shanghai, appeared somewhat A third force of undetermined strength moved south around Lake Tai.

Katy Shops Will Reopen Next Monday

The M. K. & T. railroad shops, which shut down temporarily April 12 will reopen Monday morning, May 2, Harry Brunkhorst, superintendent of the shops, announced this morning. The entire 140 men affected by the layoff will return to work at that time.

The shops were closed temporarily due to shortage in the budget fund for the local shops for the period of April 12 to May 2.

Bill Relative to Fair Premiums

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill increasing state payments on premiums to county and district fairs from one-third to one-half.

The vote was 99 for and 8 against.

The measure was introduced by Reps. Charles Ray Brown and Lynn A. Stokes, both Greene county Democrats.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, April 28—Terse urgent questions affecting our hopes for peace came boiling to the top the other day behind the closed doors of the Senate foreign relations committee. Answering them, the men who must implement the North Atlantic Pact were kept under steady fire for four and one-half hours.

Big, bull-voiced Senator Vandenberg set the pace, but each Senator got a load of questions off his chest. They combed the pact's fine print for pitfalls and loopholes and searched for hidden meanings between the lines. As a result, many tough problems were plowed up.

The chief targets in this verbal shooting gallery were Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson and ECA Ambassador Harriman. They talked brilliantly, but not quite enough, to please the Senators.

"I can't be offhand and free about information that involves

Before Senator George walked torted impatiently, when pressed for details.

Johnson also buttoned up during a barrage of questions on atomic energy from Senator McMahon of Connecticut. The queries were based on secret information which McMahon had learned at the Pentagon and Johnson objected to going into detail in front of committee clerks. This caused McMahon to declare that he wouldn't support the pact if he couldn't get the information he wanted.

"If the price of the Senator's vote," bristled Johnson, "is my violation of what I consider the security of the nation, then we may have to forego the Senator's vote."

Senate Stairs Too Steep

To add to the turmoil, the meeting was interrupted 13 times by rollcall votes on the Senate floor. This kept the Senators straggling up and down stairs to the Senate floor until 71-year-old Senator George of Georgia finally snorted in disgust:

"By God, I can't go up and down those stairs any more!"

And he quit the meeting.

Another problem was how much to tell the press. Vandenberg was against issuing any release until the secretary of state formally presented the military program to Congress. The Michigan Republican warned, however, that "Drew Pearson has a dictaphone hidden in here."

Later, Chairman Tom Connally stamped angrily into the meeting after a trip upstairs to vote.

"Somebody has already leaked the amount (of the proposed military aid)," he thundered. "Some newspaperman told me the figure and asked if that was correct."

Following this incident, it was agreed to release an outline of the $1,130,000,000 plan to help rearm the North Atlantic treaty nations. Here are other highlights of the meeting.

Senator Vandenberg wanted to clarify the important question of whether the pact was just another old-fashioned military alliance or a genuine instrument of collective security. He pointed out that the U. N. charter recognizes the right of nations to "collective self defense" in case of attack.

The charter, however, adds in Article 51: "Measures taken by members (of the U. N.) in the exercise of this right of self defense shall be immediately reported to the security council."

Does this mean, Vandenberg asked, that the treaty nations must report their secret defense plans to the security council — where Russia has easy access? This was something none of them wanted to do, but Senator Pepper of Florida warned that the pact, itself, promised to abide by the U. N. charter.

Secretary Acheson explained, however, that the only "measures" we are obliged to report to the security council are whatever measures may be taken jointly — after an armed attack occurs.

Only Arms to Europe?

"What I want to know," chimed in Utah's scholarly Senator Elbert Thomas, "is what do you mean by the rearmament of Europe? One thing Europe knows how to do is arm. The idea of supplying arms seem archaic unless we give them our best bombs and techniques. But if we do that, I am against the whole program.

"The aim of the Atlantic pact is to bring about an atmosphere to make arms unnecessary. If we are not going to teach the processes of peace, we may as well quit now, because the world knows all the processes of war."

Thomas also warned against building up a "United States army of Europe." Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, on the other hand, argued that a composite army would be more effective than several miniature armies.

Another question, raised by several Senators, was whether to furnish Europe with American-made arms or help the treaty nations manufacture their own arms. If the United States tries to produce all the armament needed for the allied world, the production and logistic problem, it was argued, would be terrific. But, on the other hand, plants built in Europe would be easy prey to the Russians and might be turned against us. No one had a ready answer for this.

Before Senator George walked out, he was in a negative mood toward anything that cost more money and warned that every move we made in Europe only implicated us deeper. Many Senators were also angry with the administration for pushing the arms program before the treaty is even ratified.

Acheson's reply was that the arms program was the only logical way of implementing the pact. Averill Harriman reported that the Marshall plan had saved Italy from disintegration and had stiffened the upper lip of other western nations. All they needed now was the arms, he declared, to make a strong stand against any aggressors.

Merry-Go-Round

Wealthy oil heiress Perle Mesta, social arbiter for the Trumans, will shortly be rewarded by an appointment as first lady ambassador to either Denmark or Luxembourg. (Mrs. Mesta used to be a Republican.) . . . The joint chiefs of staff have decided to equip our western European allies with the famous M-1 Garand rifle. Reason behind the move: The U. S. has six millions Garands in surplus and is planning to make a new, improved model for American troops. . . . George Kennan, now chief of the state department's policy-making staff, will be promoted to counselor, replacing Chip Bohlen, who moves to Paris. However, Kennan will continue his important job of trying to anticipate what the Russians will do next.

Bodies Of Three In Plane Wreck

NICKERSON, Kas., April 28—(AP)—Bodies of three men—two of them employes of a Topeka radio station—were found Wednesday in the scattered wreckage of a small plane near here.

They were identified as:

Gene Shipley, 50, farm service director of radio station WIBW, Topeka.

K. G. Marquardt, 36, chief engineer of WIBW and pilot of the plane.

Perry Reed, Reading, Kas.

The men had been missing since 10:30 Tuesday night when they took off from the farm of Ailiff Neel near Windom. Winds which reached 60 miles an hour struck the area last night.

Would Invite Negroes To Dinner

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The Missouri House asked the Jefferson City Chamber of Commerce Wednesday to invite Negro members of the House to the next annual dinner for the legislature.

Today the House adopted a resolution pointing out that through "oversight or otherwise" some members of the House because of racial differences had not been invited. There are four Negro members in the House.

The resolution expressed thanks for the dinner and recommended "no such distinction of race or color" be made in the future.

Rep. Jennie S. Walsh (D) of St. Louis offered the resolution.

Place Your Bet

If someone tells you there's no such thing as a left-hand cup, clip this out for barroom betting. Since the handle was put on the left of the guard of this old-fashioned mustache cup—the kind granddad used to keep coffee stains off his prize handlebar—it can only be used in the left hand. Mustached and left-handed Dave G. Wolaver gives the novelty a try. It was made in Salem, O., in honor of California's Forty-Niner Centennial.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—If you ever had an idea and tried to turn it into money, the story of Dick James may interest you.

He taught a piece of coiled wire to walk downstairs. Now it makes him an excellent living.

James, a 31-year-old former Marine engineer, is the inventory of "Slinky," a revolutionary new mechanical toy.

Slinky is nothing but a 78-foot piece of high carbon clockspring steel wire arranged in 92 coils. He looks like an old fashioned bedspring pressed flat — so the coils touch.

But Slinky can do things. A child can take him in his hands and play the coils back and forth like a silent accordian. Put Slinky on the top of a staircase and flip his top coil over, and Slinky will coil and uncoil his way down the stairs like a rhythmic snake.

A Simple Gadget

"He changed my whole life," said James, who has sold 2,500,000 Slinkys and expects to market another 1,000,000 this year.

Simple as the gadget is, it took James several years of hard work to make it a success.

Back in 1943 he was working in a Philadelphia shipyard. He began fooling with some round elastic wire used to suspend meters that registered the horsepower output of ship machinery.

"The coils of round wire would not stand up," he said. "So just for fun I had the company make me up a couple of dozen samples of flat wire.

"It wasn't until the next year that I learned I could make the coils walk downstairs. My son Tom and the other kids in the neighborhood were fascinated.

Wife Agreed

"I gave one coil to a boy in bed with the mumps. His parents said he had had so much fun with it I should sell the coils as toys. And my wife Betty, who'd thought I was foolish to spend two years tinkering with wire springs, agreed."

But James found then how much resistance there is in the world against a new idea.

"The toy people wanted no part of Slinky," he laughed. "Finally one department store agreed to let me use one end of a counter for an evening if I'd demonstrate the toy myself.

"I brought along 400 coils and sold them in an hour and a half. That convinced them. They gave me an immediate order for 5,000."

James had to borrow money to buy the coils from a factory that made them to his specifications. A month later he quit his $5,000 a year Marine engineering job.

A Hard Gamble

"It was a hard gamble," he said. "My family thought I was crazy to give up an engineering career over a toy."

Slinky mushroomed so fast that other companies began making the coils, figuring a patent application by James wouldn't be granted.

"But I got the patent," he grinned, "and that ironed out everything."

Now James is manufacturing the coils himself and is arranging to have them made and sold in four foreign countries.

"I don't think the toy will ever die out," he said. "There are about 5,000,000 new kids coming along every year."

Thought of Many Names

James culled over several hundred thousand names before his wife suggested calling the bouncing coil "Slinky."

"I was going to name it 'Snaky,' he recalled. "That would have been an awful mistake."

James feels luck played a large part in his good fortune.

"Hundreds of engineers have worked with elastic wire, and never thought of turning it into a toy," he said. "Neither did I. If I had set out deliberately to develop a toy that would walk downstairs, I might have spent a lifetime on it."

Cooped Up 10 Years

Sentence Of Death For Killing Child

Jury Finds M. J. Mott Guilty In Brutal Murder

TULSA, Okla., April 28—(AP)—A district court jury Wednesday night found Melburn J. Mott, 33, guilty of murdering his six-year-old daughter, Mary Frances, and fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair.

The case went to the jury at 9:45 p. m. (C.S.T.) which was out only 45 minutes.

County Attorney Elmer Adams, in his opening argument, termed the March 8 butcher-knife slaying "one of the most brutal murders in the history of Tulsa county" and asked for the death penalty.

Mott was charged with killing the sleeping child in her bed at the home of his estranged wife in neighboring Sand Springs.

Near To Collapse

He broke down on the witness stand earlier Wednesday and was removed in a sobbing state of near collapse. He returned after a recess and testified he did not remember the slaying.

"I didn't mean to do it. I loved her as much as any of my children," he cried.

Dr. Shelby Grant, Fort Smith, Ark., physician and a defense witness, said he did not think "any sane man would do" what Mott did.

Dr. Felix Adams of the Vinita, Okla., state mental hospital, was called to the stand in rebuttal. He and Dr. Harold L. Beddoe, a Tulsa physician, agreed that in opinions Mott is not insane.

"Can you give this jury any opinion as to why this thing happened," Adams was asked.

"I think he was under the influence of alcohol."

"To the extent that he did not know what he was doing?"

"No, I don't think so," the psychiatrist replied.

Mott charged during testimony that his wife was unfaithful during his war-time absence in the Army, and that his mother-in-law—with whom Mrs. Mott lived—had made threats against him.

Program for Girl Scouts is an important administrative function of the Girl Scout council, Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, is program chairman of the Sedalia council. In a recent meeting Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Joe Ruddick, public relations chairman and Mrs. R. E. Gouge, second deputy commissioner, completed plans for two major activities to be held in May.

A Court of Awards for all intermediate Girl Scouts will be held, Tuesday evening, May 3, at the First M. E. church, 4th and Osage street, 7:30 p. m.

This will be a recognition of all Girl Scouts, who have earned badges in the current school year from September 1948 to May 1949.

As soon as a girl becomes a Tenderfoot Girl Scout, she is ready to start badge-work, the first step is Second Class rank. The next step is earning of proficiency badges which leads to becoming a First Class scout.

Highest Award

The Curved Bar is the highest award in Girl Scouting, and usually takes a year to complete requirements for this recognition, and helps prepare a girl in advance for some of the things she will do as a Senior Girl Scout.

Saturday, May 7th, 10:30 a. m., at the Armory, Ninth street and Ohio avenue, all Brownie Scouts in Sedalia, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades, from all schools, are invited to a Brownie Scout party.

There will be a special "Fly-Up" ceremony for Brownie Scouts who will be in the 5th grade of school in the next school year and be eligible to join an intermediate troop and become an intermediate Girl Scout. Mrs. McLaughlin and her committee will be in charge of the party. Mrs. J. M. Bailey, special Brownie chairman on the council, will be in charge of the impressive "Fly-Up" ceremony.

Planning Board Met

Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, senior leader representative on the council, presided at the meeting of the Senior Girl Scout Planning Board, held in the Girl Scout office at the Court House Tuesday afternoon. Other adults attending were: Mrs. Harold Evans, senior leader president, Mrs. John Zulauf, Mrs. H. N. Lambirth and Mrs. McLaughlin. Girls at the meeting were: Donna Marie Robinson, Alberta Runge, Troop 1, Smith-Cotton; Eleanor Wolfel and Jeanette Lucas, Troop 4, Smith-Cotton; Dorothy Connell and Mary Jo Weller, Troop 5, Sacred Heart; Marcella Bergman and Leona Rasa, Troop 10, Smith-Cotton; Charla Edwards and Patti Howard, Troop 12, Smith-Cotton; Sandra Ryan, Troop 19, Smith-Cotton; Laura Fairfax and Mary Ann Young, Troop 22, Smith-Cotton; and Marleeta Cox and Barbara Park, Troop 25, Hubbard school.

A nominating committee was appointed to select officers, to be voted on at the next meeting. Donna Marie Robinson, chairman, Margie Cavanaugh and Sandra Ryan, will form the committee.

Get Acquainted Committee

A "Get Acquainted Committee" Dorothy Connell, chairman, Laura Fairfax and Donna Marie Robinson, will arrange for a social affair for the Senior Girl Scout group.

Mrs. J. Pierre Lamy, a member of the program committee and chairman of "Square Dances," to be resumed at Teen Town, Tuesday evening April 26, 8 p. m., has invited the sophomore troops at Sacred Heart and Smith-Cotton, as guests for Tuesday evening.

Camping will be the main objective of the Sedalia Council of Girl Scouts for the next three months. Every season brings changes and requires training to carry out the Girl Scout program. Mrs. Elmer Dillard, training chairman for the council, arranged for a group of adults to attend a training course at Knob Noster park, over this week end. Mrs. Earl D. Siegel, Mrs. Mary Houstn, Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Lambirth, will represent the Sedalia Girl Scout organization at the meeting.

'Great Pictures' Given Truman

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP) —President Truman was presented Wednesday with a volume of "Great Pictures" taken in 1948.

Sponsored by the University of Missouri and the Encyclopedia Britannica, the book features a picture of Mr. Truman at St. Louis after his victory in last November's election.

It shows the President holding up a copy of an early election night edition of the Chicago Tribune with the headline, "Dewey defeats Truman."

The presentation was made by Dr. Frank L. Mott, dean of the University's School of Journalism, and John Howe, chairman of the Board of Encyclopedia Britannica. They were accompanied to the White House by Al Muto, a news photographer whose picture of Mr. Truman at St. Louis was picked for the volume.

The President also talked during the day with Rep. Welch (D-Mo) who described his visit as a "personal call" and V. E. Phillips, Kansas City lawyer. Phillips also said his call was strictly personal.

Bill Odom Solos On Elephant

HUGO, Okla., April 28—(AP)—Round-the-world flier Bill Odom soloed on an elephant here Wednesday.

Odom, holder of the world's record for distance flying in a small plane, was the honorary ringmaster for the third annual circus roundup.

He piloted the pachyderm around the three rings to the applause of 5,000 persons attending the Al G. Kelley-Miller Bros., show.

Dismounting, the famous flier remarked: "It's easier to fly the ocean, I believe I'll stick to my Bonanza."

Several large circuses winter here and the roundup each year is sponsored by the city to show appreciation to the owners. Odom will be in Amarillo, Tex., tomorrow.

Western Allies Are Moving Very Cautiously

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The western allies are moving cautiously (though hopefully) to make sure they are seeing a real oasis and not a mirage in the startling Soviet offer to lift the German blockade.

The Russians have stated their willingness to abandon the blockade if the democracies in turn will end their counter blockade and agree to a meeting of the council of foreign ministers to consider the whole German question. It was the Muscovites who ended the foreign ministers council some sixteen months ago by walking out on it.

The western powers — America, Britain and France — are prepared to agree, provided the Russians have no further conditions up their sleeve. This caution is inspired by the fact that, by striking coincidence, the Soviet offer comes as the other three allies conclude the agreement for the establishment of a new German republic out of the three western zones, with Russia holding out its eastern zone.

Can it be a Trick?

The western allies are asking themselves: "Can Moscow's offer be a trick to disrupt the formation of the German government so that Russia can get complete control of a unified German regime which would include the Soviet zone?" Both General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, and U. S. ambassador Robert D. Murphy, yesterday expressed wariness over the Soviet offer.

Lest there be any doubt regarding the attitude of the western allies, they have made it crystal clear that they are going ahead with the creation of the new anti-Communist German republic. General Clay declared that even if the Russians lift the blockade "it will have no effect whatever on the west German government."

"We are going ahead with our plans," he said.

Tremendous Strides Made

A tremendous stride towards the rehabilitation of western Europe would seem to have been made in the agreement to establish this government. The date for its inauguration has been set for July 15. The accord naturally ignores Russia, which occupies close to one-third of the old reich.

Here it should be well noted that the western German leaders aim at a united Germany eventually. They hope a prosperous west German republic will be so attractive to their countrymen in the Soviet zone that a union of the two will be brought about. That could well be, for the Germans are a determined people.

To Help Restore Morale

In any event, the creation of the republic not only will go far towards restoring the morale of the beaten Germans, but bids fair to give a big boost to the ailing economic situation in western Europe. As this column has emphasized so often, pre-war Germany was the keystone of European economy. She can approach that mark, and perhaps equal it again, especially if the eastern zone can be added to the republic.

It must not be overlooked that the great industrial Ruhr lies within the new German state — one of the richest industrial areas in the world. The Ruhr remains under international control but eventually will revert to Germany.

Two Viewpoints

Will this encourage the growth of a new militarism in Germany? The allies have created safeguards against that. While the military governments will end when the republic is inaugurated, the three western powers will appoint civilian high commissioners who will exercise control over western Germany's foreign affairs foreign trade and various other fields.

Of course there's another way of looking at the Russian offer to lift the blockade. It could be that the Soviet finds she is being hurt more than she is hurting the western allies by continuing the blockade. It won't be long before that point is cleared up.

Fewer 'Vets' To Colleges

Loss In Federal Aid Is Faced By Coming Fall

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—Missouri's five state colleges will lose 30 per cent of their present veteran's enrollment by next fall, a Senate committee was told Wednesday.

Dr. G. W. Diemer, president of Central State College at Warrensburg, gave the Senate appropriations committee that figure today. He estimated all five state colleges would lose about $135,000 in federal aid as a result of this loss of veterans enrollment.

The committee was holding hearings on a House-approved bill calling for over $21,000,000 to run the State University at Columbia, the five state colleges and Lincoln university for Negroes.

Dr. W. W. Parker, president of Southeast State College at Cape Girardeau said classes at his school are overcrowded and understaffed. It will be increasingly hard to hold much of the personnel, he said.

He said from 1930 to 1949 only $1,500,000 was spent for additional buildings at all five schools. As the bill is now written, $3,950,000 would be spent on new buildings.

More Funds To Schools

Dr. Roy Ellis, president of Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield told the committee the bill as passed by the House gives the schools about 10 per cent more than was appropriated for the present biennium.

This will include teacher salary raises, he said. Ellis said the schools are asking for salary hikes so teacher's purchasing power could be equal to what it was in 1939.

He pointed out the average increase in wages in the U. S. between 1939 and 1947 was 145.5 per cent, while the increase for teachers in the five state colleges was only 50 per cent.

The committee took no action on the measure.

The bill includes all the requests by the state colleges and the state university and is nearly $3,500,000 more than was recommended in Gov. Forrest Smith's budget.

Large Crowd At Minstrel Show

The "Atomic Minstrels," sponsored by the Sedalia Shrine club, presented their two and one-half hour show to a large crowd at the Liberty theater, Wednesday evening. Proceeds go into the fund for Shrine club activities.

The show includes a large cast of local talent, and features much "blackface" comedy supported by vocal, instrumental and dance numbers. A style show by Sedalia models is also included on the program. There are three parts to the program, a "Scene in Moonbeam's Cafe," several specialty numbers, and "Cotton Pickin' Time."

The entire cast of the show paraded on Ohio avenue at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday evening, accompanied by members of the Sedalia Shrine club and headed by the Smith-Cotton high school band.

The "Atomic Minstrels" will be presented again tonight at 8:13 o'clock at the Liberty theater. Tonight's program will include the crowning of the king and queen of the Shrine club's popularity contest for children. The 64 youngsters were introduced to the audience Wednesday evening.

Follies Girl's Deathbed Note In Court Case

Tells Mother She Has Son; Claims Fields is Father

LOS ANGELES, April 28—(AP)—A Follies girl's "voice from the grave" today accented a man's claim that he is the son of the late W. C. Fields and entitled to a share of the comedian's $771,428 estate.

On file in superior court are a deathbed letter written by the showgirl and also letters allegedly written by Fields.

The letters are part of a deposition filed in probate court yesterday in behalf of William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims to be Fields' son. His whereabouts and occupation were not disclosed.

A petition accompanying the deposition said statements in it were made April 16 at Onset, Mass., by Bessie Adelaide Witherell, mother of the Follies girl, Bessie Chatteron Poole.

Petition in Court

Morris filed a petition in superior court here last Feb. 3 to determine heirship in the many-sided contest over the estate of Fields, who died Christmas day, 1946. Morris was not mentioned in Fields' will dated April 28, 1943.

The comedian's long estranged wife, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, who was bequeathed $10,000, is suing for a widow's share in gifts made by Fields.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said her daughter, who died Oct. 8, 1928, was in the Ziegfeld Follies in 1918 or 1919 and that she was infatuated with Fields, and appeared with him in a vaudeville act.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said she first learned of the child's existence in a deathbed letter from her daughter which read:

Note to Mother

"Darling Mother: Well, I am just going to the hospital for an operation and of course I don't expect to die. But in case anything should happen, why I want you and Gram to know I love you. And I have something to tell you.

"I have a son 10 years old who lives with Mrs. Rose Holden, which I want you to take care of and bring up. W. C. Fields is his father. He is named William Rexford Fields Morris. He was born here in New York and I fully believe that Bill will take care of him but in case he does not, why, make him . . ."

If the son was 10 years old when his mother died in 1928, he now would be 31.

Two letters purportedly written by Fields to the Follies girl in 1925 and 1926 and enclosing money, also were filed. The letters made no reference to a son.

Truman Talks on Loyalty

tinue to handle patronage regardless of how they vote on the President's program in the Senate and House.

Mr. Truman's remarks seemed to cast doubt on whether lawmakers who oppose vital issues in his program will continue to be recognized in patronage matters.

In response to a question about the "party loyalty" test McGrath said will be applied in patronage cases, Mr. Truman said he was talking about votes in Congress.

McGrath previously had denied reports that members of the House who vote against the administration's substitute for the Taft-Hartley act would be punished politically. Mr. Truman's observations indicated that such a move may be in his mind.

Barrel Stave For Guidance of Children Upheld by Judiciary

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28—(AP)—The barrel stave as an instrument of child guidance is upheld by a member of the federal judiciary.

He is Federal District Judge Richard M. Duncan.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the Christian Brothers high school last night, he observed:

"A good whanging with a barrel stave, as administered in other days, is better child guidance than any offered by child psychologists today."

Such "old time discipline" he added, brought better results than much of the social work today.

He recalled that 40 years ago when he was a student at Christian Brothers college, forerunner of the present school, it was not uncommon for a brother to divest himself of his black robe and march a culprit to the gymnasium for some "physical education."

"After a youth had been to the gym he came out a rule-abiding student, the judge said. "It is too bad modern educators frown on such methods.

"Parents today have little of any control over their children and there is too little home life."

In the quick passage today there seemed to be a feeling the Senate would raise the maximum.

Postpone Road Program Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The House won't argue over a pending state road program bill any more this week.

The representatives decided instead to wait until next Tuesday before going further on the road problem.

For three hours yesterday the House worked over the measure recommended by Gov. Forrest Smith as a way to get rural Missouri out of the mud by doubling the two-cent gasoline tax. One major change was made before the House adjourned for the day.

It took most of the power away from county courts.

Rep. C. P. Turley (D) of Carter county said county courts don't know how to build roads and don't have the equipment, anyway. He said his change would put overall supervision in the hands of the state highway commission "where it belongs."

Cripples Measure

But the bill's sponsor, Rep. Milton Duvall (D) of Pike county, said it crippled the measure. Duvall is chairman of the House roads and highways committee.

The amendment as adopted also gives the state highway commission the task of maintaining rural roads taken into the state system. Thus the bill now calls for doubling the present gasoline tax of two cents a gallon and authorizes the highway commission to spend one cent of the increase on county roads.

State Hospital Fire Hazards

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. April 28—(AP)—Older buildings at State Hospital No. 2 here constitute serious fire hazards, the eleemosynary committee of the state legislature has been informed.

The report was forwarded to the committee by Leo J. Urbanski, St. Joseph fire chief. It was based on an inspection requested by Jerome Schellhorn, St. Joseph, vice chairman of the committee.

Chief Urbanski said he found fire escape doors locked, inflamable records stored in the frame attic over the administration building and no automatic fire doors to prevent the spread of flames.

He also noted wooden stairways. Wooden passages between buildings and odd size fire hose that would not connect with city fire fighting equipment.

Schellhorn said the investigation here was similar to those being made at other mental institutions in the state.

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln's final copy of his Gettysburg address was sold last night for $54,000 to Oscar B. Cintas, a retired Havana, Cuba, business man.

The manuscript, on three sheets of ordinary blue-lined paper, was penned by Lincoln some time after he made the address in November, 1863.

It was sold at auction at the Parke-Bernet galleries which called the manuscript "the most important American historical document ever offered for public sale in this country."

The galleries said four copies of the famous address are in existence, but the one sold last night is the only one signed, dated and titled by Lincoln.

The manuscript was sold from the estate of the late Dr. William J. A. Bliss, of Baltimore, who received it from his father, Col. William A. Bliss, for whom Lincoln wrote it.

Four Teams Have Entered Boys' League

Four teams have entered the Boys' League, a team for the small players in Sedalia, sponsored by the Northeast Athletic club, it was disclosed at a meeting Wednesday night at Jefferson school.

The teams that have joined are: Flyers, of Washington school, managed by Homer Earhart, Junior Blues of Jefferson school, Junior Athletics of Broadway school and Sacred Heart team, managed by Fr. Robert Gaertner.

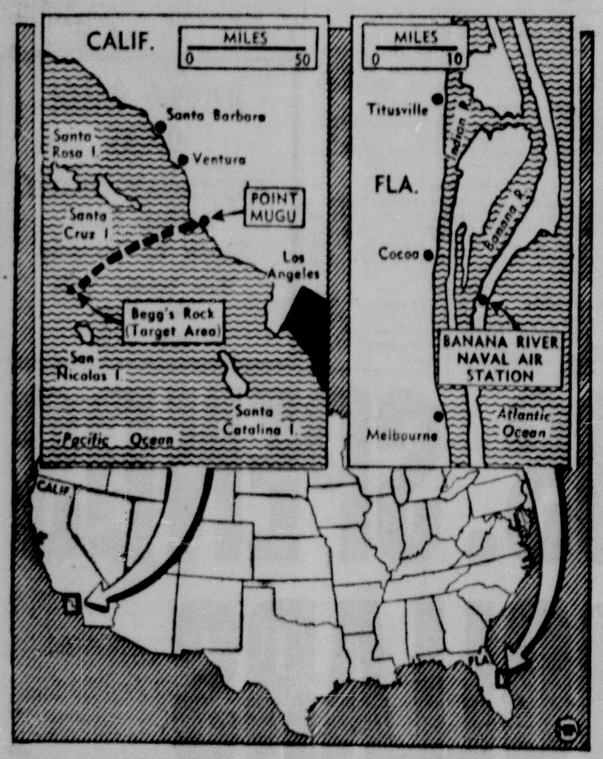
At the present time the club is consulting other teams to enter so that the play this season will have six teams. The deadline for entering the Boys' League is set at May 7. Managers and persons interested in entering a team are asked to be at the next meeting to be held at Jefferson school, May 11.

During this meeting, the scheduling of games and rules and bye laws will go into effect.

Pills, Not Bills, Under Health Plan

Those long wartime queues are again part of the British scene, because millions have signed up under the terms of the nine-month-old national medical care program. Here, patients line up at the pharmacy window in a London hospital to receive free medicine, which is included in the "cradle to grave" plan.

Possible Sites for New Test Range



These maps show closeups of the Point Mugu, Calif., and Banana River Naval Air Station, Fla., areas, which Defense officials are considering as sites for the proposed $200,000,000 guided missile test center. Both sites are now used as test ranges but are inadequate for longer range missiles. Point Mugu uses Begg's Rock for its present target area, as shown. The proposed, extreme long range test center eventually would have a community of 13,000 persons.

Basket Supper As School Closes

The Willow Grove school closed Friday, April 22, with a program and basket supper. In the absence of the teacher, Mrs. Roy Arnold, who was ill, the P. T. A. president, Mrs. Elbert Sprigg, had charge of the meeting.

There were three eighth grade graduates—Bernie Hazell, Raymond Hicks, and Glenn Sprigg. The class will was read by Raymond Hicks and the class prophecy by Jim Hazell, a seventh grade pupil. Mrs. Sprigg presented the grade cards, and the pupils of grades three to eight were given reading certificates. A program was presented by pupils from all the grades.

The supper table was centered with a large cake sent to the program by Mrs. Arnold, and decorated with the words "Eight Long Years." Following the supper, Mrs. Rabern Kella conducted games for the children.

There was no school during the last three days because of the illness of Mrs. Arnold. She was able to leave Friday for her home in Tipton, and had improved enough to attend graduation exercises held in Boonville, Sunday afternoon, for all the eighth grade graduates of Cooper county.

Quits Shanghai

Rear Adm. George Crawford, commander of U. S. Naval forces in the Shanghai area, was ordered to speed from the city to escape a Communist trap that threatened to cut the Whangpoo River, only outlet to the sea. The sudden departure of the fleet left over 2000 Americans stranded in Red-menaced Shanghai.

Three Players Of Big Leagues Were Injured

Their Injuries Overshadow Scores Of The Games

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Injuries to Stan Rojek, Bob Elliott and Lou Boudreau, all key men in the major league pennant races, overshadow the scores in today's baseball news.

Rojek's injury may be the most important. If the Pittsburgh shortstop, the "hustle guy" of Bill Meyer's infield, is lost for any appreciable time, the Pirates' pennant hopes go a-glimmering.

A pitched ball by Ken Johnson, fifth St. Louis pitcher, struck Rojek near the left eye in the ninth inning last night at Sportsman's Park. He walked a short distance and collapsed just as teammates reached him.

No Fracture Found

Early reports from the hospital indicated that no fracture was found.

The incident took most of the zing out of the Pirates' 7-1 victory over the Cardinals. It should have been a big night for the Pirates because Murry Dickson, the ex-Cardinal who was purchased for $125,000 last winter, faced his old mates for the first time.

Dickson, pitching like a man with a mission, was given a nice cushion in the first inning when the Pirates greeted Howie Pollet with five straight singles. Pollet was replaced by Ted Wilks before he got anybody out in the four-run first inning. After that it was duck soup for Dickson who threw a seven-hitter. The win put the Buccos in a first place tie with the New York Giants for the National league lead.

Third Baseman Hit on Knee

The Boston Braves' third baseman, Elliott, was hit on the knee and carried off the field at Shibe park on a stretcher. The big power man of the Boston attack was felled by a line drive off the bat of Puddin' Head Jones, the Phillies sensational rookie. Elliott's injury was not considered serious.

Despite Elliott's accident, the Braves shut out the Phils, 2-0, on a fine three-hit effort by Warren Spahn.

Boudreau was forced to leave the Cleveland-Chicago White Sox afternoon game when hit on the left elbow by Pitcher Orval Grove. X-ray pictures showed the injury apparently was only a bruise.

Cleveland went on a batting spree to ruin the Sox, 11-3 with Mickey Vernon, the ex-Washington first sacker, and Ken Keltner hitting home runs.

Went Ten Innings

The New York Yankees' march was rudely interrupted at Washington when the win-starved Senators came from behind to break a seven-game losing streak, 4-3 in ten innings. The Nats scored three in the ninth after Allie Reynolds pitched shutout ball for eight and two-thirds innings. Clyde Vollmer's triple was the big blow. In the extra frame, Washington hung the loss on Fireman Joe Page. Pitcher Forest Thompson doubled, took third on Ralph Houk's error and scored on Sam Dente's single.

Another 7-game losing streak was broken when the St. Louis Browns shaded the Detroit Tigers, 4-3 in 12 innings with Karl Drews, the Yankee castoff, outpitching Hal Newhouser.

Drove in Five Runs

Vern (Junior) Stephens had a big batting day for the Boston Red Sox in a 10-6 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Stephens hit two homers and a single, driving in five runs.

National league day action was featured by the New York Giants' 11-8 win over Brooklyn in a wild contest at the Polo Grounds. contest at the Polo Grounds. Rookie Pete Milne's pinch homer with the bases loaded helped the Giants come from behind after blowing a 6-0 lead.

Johnny Vander Meer fell victim of an old ailment — wildness —which Chicago's Cubs turned into a six-run rally and an 8-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Boatwright Led Way In Golf Championship

ATHENS, Ga., April 28—(AP)—Slender P. J. Boatwright, an unheralded strokemaster who snipped four off par yesterday, led the way into match play today for the Southern Intercollegiate Golf championship.

The lanky, 21-year-old junior of Wofford college, Spartansburg, S. C., carded a 68 over the 6,554-yard Athens Country club course. Three better than second place Hal Spears of Georgia.

Spears, lowest scoring southeastern conference entry, won the SEC individual championship. The University of Miami won the tournament four-man team title with a low aggregate score of 297. The SEC team title went to Georgia Tech with a 302.

Other team scores: Duke 301; Georgia 304; North Texas State 306; Auburn 308; Kentucky 310; Oklahoma A&M 311.

Card Fans Bemoan Loss of Dickson

ST. LOUIS, April 28—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinal fans who bemoaned the sale of pitcher Murry Dickson to the Pittsburgh Pirates have even more reason to feel bad today.

The big righthander, facing his old Cardinal teammates for the first time, beat them 7 to 1 last night on seven hits.

Dickson said little about his triumph.

"I just had my stuff," was his only comment.

Cardinal Manager Eddie Dyer readily agreed. Dickson went to the Pirates late in January for a reported $125,000. Dyer registered a strong protest against the sale. He didn't know about it until the deal was over.

The deal was completed just before Robert Hannegan, former postmaster general, sold St. Louis to Fred M. Saigh, but was not announced until just after the sale.

King of The Raceways

It's Jimmy Wilburn, Indianapolis, Ind., who holds more track records than any speed merchant in modern history. Wilburn makes his first start in almost a year at the Missouri State Fairgrounds this Sunday afternoon as the Sedalia Lions' club rpesents a score of stars in an eight race program. Starting time is 2:30 with state and sectional champions from all over America due to compete.

Flying Fists After Graham Brown Match

An anticipated riot nearly got out of hand, Wednesday night at the weekly American Legion wrestling matches, when Roy Graham, Dallas, Tex., comboy and Orville Brown, NWA wrestling champion got into a slug-fest outside the ring. Brown won the match but feeling ran high when Graham tried to whip Brown and the referee but lost that bout to the fans.

Graham a Villian

Graham, as is his custom, took a heavy swing on Brown just before the first fall started knocking the champion to the mat and from then on it went. Brown retaliated with several good slugs and with a smother won in 15 seconds. Graham in the second fall knocked Brown and choked him to the place where he got a body scissors and smother and won in 11 minutes and nine seconds.

The third fall ended when Referee Jack Haley counted Graham out, while he was outside the ring. After a more boxing match than wrestling Graham and Brown went outside the ring and Brown knocked Graham into the second row of seats and climbed back into the ring. Haley counted Graham out. It was 15 minutes and seven seconds. Graham started back and took slugs at Haley and Brown and Brown and he fought it out till police rushed Graham into his dressing room.

Matches Are Good

In the opening match on the card The Phantom, Bermantown, Pa., beat Jules La Rance, Quebec, Canada, in 11 minutes and 31 seconds using a rolling front head lock.

In the second match, Dean Ditton, Los Angeles, Calif., beat Bobby Bruns, the wrestling sailor from Chicago, for the first fall in 25 minutes and 11 seconds, using a Japanese arm lock. In the second fall Bruns applied the flying scissors and won in nine minutes and 19 seconds. The third fall period ended in a draw.

The match between Ditton and Bruns was a rough and tumble affair which kept the fans yelling themselves hoarse.

Yankees' Most Potent Slugger

By Joe Ives

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—An unheralded understudy — Gerry Coleman — is making the surprising New York Yankees look like the potent Bronx Bombers of yesteryear, says Manager Casey Stengel.

With his solid slugging it looks as though the 24-year-old San Franciscan has given Snuffy Stirnweiss, heretofore the Yanks second sacker, a regular spot on the bench.

If Stirnweiss should return to the lineup, either shortstop Phil Rizzuto or third baseman Bill Johnson will probably be out of the lineup. Stengel says Coleman can play any of the three spots like a veteran.

From substitute to shortstop to second baseman to slugger is the springtime saga of this carbon copy of former Yank great, Frank Crosetti. They look so much alike that when Crosetti and Coleman walk on the field together, the only way you can tell the two apart is that Coleman has hair on his head.

Coleman's meteoric rise as a New York regular has been highlighted by his .414 batting average which has made him the Yankees' most valuable asset at the plate.

As leadoff man in the last 8 games, he's pounded out 12 hits in 29 times at bat, obtained seven walks, hit three doubles and a homer, driven in three runs and scored four times himself.

Legion Club To Play Columbia

The Sedalia Post No. 16 American Legion baseball club will play its first practice game Friday night at Columbia at 8:00 o'clock.

The regular team has not been chosen, so most of the boys eligible will make the trip and see action in this game. The boys are rounding out in good shape and Manager Thomas said he is confident that he will have a champion team to represent this district.

The following boys will make the trip: Dale Ruffin, out fielder; Billy Holst, out fielder; George Nold, catcher; Neidholdt, catcher; Ralph Walker, infielder; Bob Ray, pitcher; Joe Mehl, pitcher; Billy Bob Brown, pitcher; Bobby Shawver, infielder; Billy Arnold, infielder; Johnny Cochran, infielder; Donald Broddus, infielder; Ralph "Skippy" Shultz, pitcher; "Bill" Morgan, infielder; "Gibby" Lighter, infielder; Jimmy Smith, infielders; Jackie Case, pitcher; David Johnson, pitcher.

The team is sponsored by the Engle Motor Co.

Missouri Given Chance to Win

By L. E. Skelly

DES MOINES, April 82—(AP)—An entire new set of champions will parade to the victory stand in the University section of the Drake relays.

Only the speedy Texas A&M mile team will be back to defend a university relays title tomorrow and Saturday. And the Aggies may be dethroned in a race in which Michigan State and Missouri are given good chances of winning.

The University of Texas, its squad riddled by injuries, isn't able to try for repeat championships in the 440, 880, the distance medley and the four mile relays.

Ohio State, winner of two-mile and sprint medley events last year, will shoot for the Penn relays titles. Missouri, gifted with speed this spring in the 880 and mile races, won't seek another title in the 480-yard shuttle high hurdle relay.

That leaves it up to the Aggies They won last year in 3:15.2 and have done 3:17.1 this year. But Missouri won the mile at the Kansas games in 3:16.5 and Michigan State, with Jack Dianetti running anchor leg, is a popular pick.

Eastern Teams Will Play Out West Today

By the Associated Press

The eastern teams of the American Association, forsaking night baseball temporarily, got out in the chilly midwestern sunshine for day games today in the west end of the circuit.

The four western clubs — St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Kansas City — were shooting for new attendance figures to pass that of Columbus, The Red Birds drew 14,066 fans for its opening game this season.

League leading St. Paul, with five victories and no losses, was host to Columbus in the opener of a two-game series.

In other series openers, Minneapolis entertained Louisville, Toledo played at Milwaukee and Kansas City welcomed Indianapolis.

Dirt Champion Wilburn Will Race Sunday

His First Contest Since His Injury In 1948 Races

"Can Jimmy Wilburn come back?"

That's the question race fans all over America will expect to see answered in the Lions' club championship races this Sunday afternoon at the Missouri State Fairgrounds track as the Indianapolis dirt track champion makes his first start since an almost fatal crackup almost a year ago.

Wilburn had just broken another track record at Indianola, Iowa, last spring when his $20,000 race car flew through the fence. He was so wedged into the seat that it took almost an hour to release him from the mangled metal and he hovered between life and death for many weeks.

Most race authorities predicted he would never drive again but the wiry Wilburn has completely recovered, thousands of dollars have been spent rebuilding his machine, and he has made numerous practice runs on eastern speedways.

Sunday's races, however, will be his first competitive start and his field will inculde such state and sectional champions as California's "Wild Bill" Anderson in the Gus Shrader "Offy"; Ben and Rabbit Musick, in two of modern racing's most powerful machines; "Rapid" Russ Lee, in a brand new 270 cubic inch engined machine; Clair Cotter, Ernie Johnson, Phil Mocca, "Red" Ballew, Bill Hoff, the Snyder brothers and a host of others.

Racing officials, now in Sedalia conditioning the fairgrounds track, welcomed the recent rains, explaining that thousands of gallons of water would be poured on the surface and that equipment was available so that Sunday's events will go on rain or shine.

Lions club officials announced that beginning today grandstand tickets are available at all downtown ticket selling locations. While only the boxes are reserved the purchase of grandstand seats in advance will avoid wating in line. Sunday's starting time is 2:30.

Team Won Its Fourth Straight Game Last Night

By The Associated Press

The St. Joseph Cardinals, 1948 champions of the Western Association, are off to an even better start this year.

Last year's edition won its first three games, then battled on even terms with Joplin and Fort Smith for the next six weeks.

The 1949 Cardinals won their fourth straight last night, defeating Leavenworth 9-1. The game was the home opener for Leavenworth.

Leavenworth's only run was a homer by Mike Perez in the fourth.

Lloyd Westhoff pitched six-hit ball for the winners.

Rained Out

Topeka was rained out at Joplin, but Salina won from Hutchinson 11-5 and Muskogee tripped Fort Smith 12-11.

Hutchinson threatened late in the game at Salina, pushing across four runs in the eighth, but Bob Al, who pitched a two-hitter against the Elks Tuesday night, came in to retire the side with one pitched ball.

Ed Bucynski and Bob Falk played major roles in Muskogee's victory. Bucynski homered for the Reds in the eighth to open a three run rally and came back with a triple in the ninth. Two walks and and two outs followed the triple before Falk drove in Dudley Carson with a single.

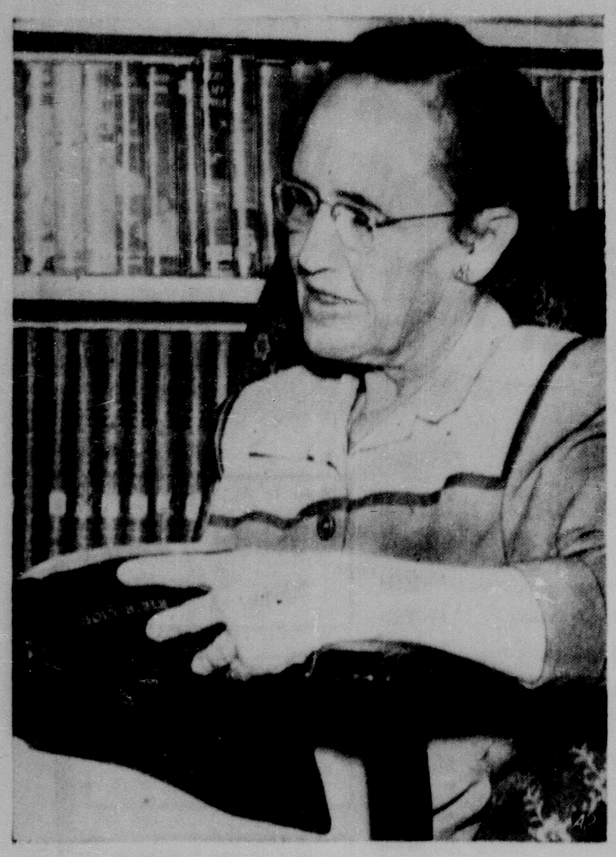
American Mother of 1949



Mrs. Pearle Owens Gillis . . . . with favorite book.

Texan Mother of Six Wins Top Honors In Annual Vote

AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK, April 26 — The American Mother of 1949 is a tiny Texan, mother of six, whose world has been her church and music.

She is Mrs. Pearle Owens Gillis, 60, of 831 East Harvey street, Fort Worth, Tex., chosen by the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation.

Mrs. Gillis, wife of a postal department employe, is the mother of four boys and two girls, all of them musically inclined. She has long been active in the Baptist church, local welfare activities and during the depression years took eight young college students into her home.

One of her sons, Dr. Carroll O. Gillis, is a foreign missionary of the Southern Baptist church, currently home on furlough. Another is Don Gillis, a production director of the National Broadcasting Company in New York. Dr. Everett Gillis, a third son, is a college professor of English and the fourth, Lewis, is a composer and arranger of music.

Both daughters are married and live in Forth Worth.

The American Mothers' Committee has selected a National Mother and 48 State mothers for the past 15 years. Selections are based on her success as a mother evidenced in her children's character and achievements. She must reflect religious and moral integrity, courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability. She must have, as well, a sense of civic and international understanding and be active in community work.

Mrs. Gillis was notified of her selection in Fort Worth last week end. She will come to New York, appear on a number of radio programs, speak at Mother's Day ceremonies on May 8 on the Central Park Mall and be honored at luncheons and receptions.

What is said to be the world's largest plow cuts furrows from 36 to 42 inches deep, and three feet wide.

Joint Graduation Of Two Schools

Joint graduation exercises were held by the Quisenberry and Camp Branch schools at Quisenberry school Friday evening.

There were six graduates, Billy Hutton and Donald Brown from Camp Branch and Jane Ruifs, Beulah Brockman, Richard Rulfs and George Walz, from Quisenberry.

The Community club assisted by the teachers presented the following program: Processional, Mrs. Milton Lazenby; invocation, George H. Miller; music, Homemakers; address, George H. Miller; song, "Graduation Day," graduates; presentation of diplomas, George H. Miller, assisted by Susie Rissler, benediction, Mrs. C. W. Chappell.

Discuss Book At Club Meet

The Brick Extension club met at the club house on April 19. Mrs. Harry Broderson served as hostess. Seven members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Walter Lemler.

The meeting was opened by singing, "Long, Long Ago," which was led by Mrs. Cecil Rodgers. The devotional was given by Mrs. Roy Armstrong, using as he theme, "Home and Home Training." She read appropriate scripture passage and closed with a poem.

The club made a contribution to the cancer control fund and also one to the assistant county agents fund. Mrs. Cecil Rodgers was appointed to serve as card committee. Miss Beulah Armstrong and Mrs. Burford Jenkins presented the lesson on "Family Relations." The discussion was based on the book, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Miss Parsons discussed canning aids. She demonstrated the mechanical devices that aid in canning.

The meeting was adjourned by reading the club collect.

Many of our best apples are almost completely sterile and can be kept going only by artificial budding and grafting.

Paris Woman's Club Head Plans U. S. Tour to Trade Advice on Welfare Problem

By Rosette Hargrove
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS — To promote better understanding between American and French women is the ambitious purpose of a month-long visit to the U. S. planned by Madame Genevieve Jaudoin-Prom who will represent France at the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Hollywood, Florida.

The dynamic forty-four-year-old Frenchwoman is president and founder of the Club Feminin de Liaison Franco-Americaine, which she organized in 1947.

To accomplish the purpose of her visit she plans to meet and to talk with scores of American women in all walks of life. She will tell them about the lives of average Frenchwomen as well as discuss social welfare problems and club projects such as the revival of abandoned French villages and the development of regional handicrafts.

"The American Friendship Train showed Frenchwomen that American women of all classes felt sympathy for us and were eager to help us," she says. "I hope the Thank You Train showed them that Frenchwomen of all classes deeply appreciated their generosity and reciprocated their sentiments.

"I want factory women and society women, college girls and business women to know that the life of the average Frenchwoman is no more frivolous than that of the majority of American women, contrary to popular beliefs on both sides of the Atlantic."

A study of living conditions of American working women is of particular interest to Madame Jaudoin-Prom because of her social welfare work with working women in Paris.

Club projects which will be explained and discussed with her U. S. sisters concern the care of war orphans and children now being cared for by the state and of "isolated" or lonely women who come under the category of the "economically feeble."

The plan is to repopulate villages by the creation of children's homes which would be placed in the care of "isolated" women. The children would benefit by their maternal care, she believes, in contrast to impersonal state care. It is also her belief that the women would find a new interest in life. Many villages in France, she points out, have suffered sharp declines in population, some because of war casualties; others, because of the migration of workers to cities.

Madame Jaudoin-Prom is confident that the "grafting" of children who would be trained to become useful citizens would contribute to the physical and economic rebirth of such villages.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(AP)— In a vast mansion on Mars the president of that planet sat listening to the music of the spheres—the melody made by the stars in their courses.

It was his favorite pastime.

But into the universal symphony came a jarring sound. The Martian president frowned and twisted the dials of his electronic radio.

"Again that discordant note!" he exclaimed. "This time I'm going to do something about it. It's been ruining my concerts for the last 10,000 years."

Called Wise Men

So he called his wise men together. Gravely, one by one, they checked with tuning forks the sound that came from each of the multitudinous bodies in the wide heavens. Then they reported:

"Sire, the jarring noise comes from an obscure planet known as the earth, our neighbor in this constellation."

"That mudball!" said the president.

He had his leading stellar explorer, Rado, brought to him.

"Rado," said the vexed chieftain. "Trot down to earth and see why that flyspeck in the sky is out of tune."

Rado sprayed himself with invisibility lotion, climbed into his two-seater anti-gravity ship and took off. Exactly a year and a day later he returned to Mars. A great mass of Martians was there to greet him.

A Beautiful Globe

"Well, what is the earth like?" asked the president.

"It is a beautiful globe, washed by soft seas," said Rado. "It is covered at both ends by mountains and wide fields covered wtih a cool white substance known as snow. And between the caps are green fields and towering cities full of living things.

"Oh, it is an enchanting place—fairer than our Mars."

"Why is it out of tune then?" said the president crossly.

"I thing it is the people."

"What, in the name of the milky way, are people?"

Two Forms of Life

"There are two forms of life that move about," said the explorer. "One kind is people. The other kind is animals. The people have enslaved some animals and driven the rest into the wilderness."

"How savage!" cried the president. "That explains the discordant note."

"No sire," said Rado. "There is more to it than that. After enslaving the animals, the different peoples began enslaving each other. And they destroy themselves in great disastrous wars. The wails they send up ruins the music of the stars."

"Life take life!" murmured the president. "Is it possible?"

"On the earth death is often a way of life," said Rado.

"What do these repulsive creatures that call themselves people look like?"

It Grows Up

Rado reached into his space ship and pulled out a sleeping human baby.

"I brought one along to show you, sire," he said. "I found it in a war-wrecked village. I fed it star foam on the way to keep it quiet."

The president looked at the dozing child.

"So small and harmless a thing as this disturbs the harmony of the heavens?" he asked doubtfully.

"It grows up," said Rado.

Before the days of night flying, airmail was carried by plane during the day, and transferred to trains at night.

Minnesota's 1947 ore shipments totaled 62,131,362 tons.

Pour Tea For Mom

MOTHER'S DAY TEA PARTY . . . Cookies and Corsages

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

This suggestion is for teenagers. Give your mothers a treat on Mother's Day. Join up with the daughters of your mother's friends and have a party — the guests of honor will get a big thrill out of being feted. The party doesn't have to be elaborate—just a simple tea with lots of delicious cookies. Daughters can buy the ingredients for the cookies out of their allowances and bake them in one or two kitchens.

As preparation for the party make enough small corsages or boutonnieres of some pretty flowers in season so that each guest may have one. Arrange two pretty platters of cookies on a tray and place the corsages right on the tray as a decoration.

Two extra-special cooky recipes for spring are these Peek-A-Boo Cookies and the Double Fudge Squares. Peek-A-Boo Cookies are an easy rolled cooky with jam or jelly peeking through a pretty design on the top layer. The jam stays put and bakes into the cookies just enough to permeate them with its sweetness and flavor.

Double Fudge Squares could easily take their name from their double goodness! But they are named for the double layer of chocolate — cooky on the bottom and frosting on the top, with a butterscotch cooky layer in the middle.

Peek-A-Boo Cookies

Ingredients: 2½ cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup shortening (must be at room temperature), 1 cup of brown sugar, ½ cup water, 2½ cups quick rolled oats (uncooked) ½ cup jelly or jam.

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, and salt into mixing bowl. Add shortening, sugar and water and beat until smooth, or about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats. Roll dough very thin on lightly floured board; cut with floured cooky cutter. Cut a design with a smaller cutter or a sharp knife in half the cookies. Place plain cookies on lightly greased baking sheet. Top with a half teaspoon jelly and cover with a designed cooky, lightly pressing the edges together. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

Double Fudge Squares

Ingredients: ¾ cup sifted enriched all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening (must be at room temperature), ½ cup brown sugar, ½ cup granulated sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon water, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups quick rolled oats (uncooked), ¼ cup chopped nutmeats, 1 square (1 ounce) un-sweetened chocolate (melted), 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces (melted).

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, and salt into bowl. Add shortening, sugars, egg, water and vanilla. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats and nutmeats. Divide dough into two parts. To one part, add the melted unsweetened chocolate. Roll out the light part between two sheets of waxed paper to fit a 7x11 inch pan. Repeat using chocolate mixture. Chill in refrigerator at least one hour. Place chocolate portion in bottom of a greased 7x11 inch pan. Coer with tight layer. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cool. Spread with melted chocolate chips. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate hardens. Cut into squares. Makes 30 squares.

THE storm was at our back, but the night would be cold and we'd have a long walk if the car stopped. We hadn't seen another car on the road for an hour, and after dark there would be even fewer cars abroad. Likely no one would have gas to spare if we did flag him down. The countryside was almost tenantless; what few houses there were were scattered miles apart on the sheep ranches.

We pulled into Dupuyer cramped and lame from muscles tense from pressing.

Davis' garage was locked. I squinted around hopelessly for some kind of hotel. Major got out of the car and stopped a boy riding up the street on horseback. "This garage locked for the day?" he asked.

"Probably so. 'Less you can find Ted. Gas shortage," he explained.

With help from the boy, Major sighted the pool hall and, hitching up his trousers, made for Ted—we hoped.

A few minutes later Major reappeared, followed shortly by a man pulling on a leather jacket. He unlocked the pump and let us have a tankful, refusing to accept coupons for it. "Wish I could afford to give you the gas, too," he said. "My boy's flying with the Navy."

"Got to make up time," Major observed, as he pressed the throttle to the floor. We hit 110. "Lots o' gas now and no worries."

Coming off the highway into a town, we had the illusion that we could walk faster than the 30-mile speed posted. Major compromised on 50.

The patrolman who made the arrest rode a motorcycle with sidecar. He ordered Major into the little side seat and told Molly she could follow along to the station house if she wanted to, but he warned her it wouldn't do any good. "This judge is tough," he said. "No fines. Just jail."

"Call the Judge Advocate, Molly," Major said, before embarking on his unwelcome ride.

"No good," the policeman said. "This man don't deal with no Army."

"That's ridiculous!" Major exclaimed. "Its understood the Army is under its own discipline."

"Supreme Court don't understand it." The policeman knew more than Major, and his knowledge was right. Major got three days and he served them.

• • •

WE left Major at the jail, disconsolately thrown into a tank which contained only half enough beds to go around. The denizens already housed there explained that they took turns standing and sleeping and that since he was new, he'd have to stand that night. Drunks, speeders, and other petty law-breakers made up the cell congregation.

Molly told Major not to worry, that she'd return immediately with his overnight kit. The boos and catcalls which greeted this remark caused Major to tell her harshly not to bother.

A drunk picked a body louse off his chest and crushed it between his fingernails. Molly shrieked and I led her out of the cell block, drove her home, and put her to bed.

Rob heard me coming downstairs just as he was tuning in on Fred Allen. "Where you been?" he asked.

"Glacier Park," I answered hurriedly to get to more important matters. "Major's in jail."

"I asked you where you've been," Rob said testily, apparently convinced I was stringing him and not more concerned by my telling him Major was in jail than by my saying we'd been to Glacier Park.

"Glacier Park."

"You're lying." I never knew a man with such resistance to the truth.

"And Major's in jail," I repeated.

"Are you going to tell me where you've been or aren't you?" If I'd said we'd been to the moon and it really was made of green cheese, he couldn't have been madder. It was all so silly, I laughed. That laugh only served to increase his anger.

"God, how I hate liars," Rob muttered to himself, too angry to include me. He must have hated liars more than he loved Fred Allen, for he picked up his book and went to his room without hearing the program.

He had to admit next day that Major was in jail all right, for we gave him a thermos of coffee and a bagful of sandwiches to deliver; but he'll likely die believing we lied to him about going twice in the same day to Glacier Park. Montanans simply didn't carry on that way.

• • •

MAJOR had been "out" for 10 days and the incident was practically forgotten. We were having a game of bridge when there was a knock at the back door. Being dummy, I answered it.

Two begrimed individuals stood there expectantly. They were young and dirty. Their faces were black as with coal dust; shocks of filthy, matted hair showed around the edges of their caps; their Navy peacoats were gray with dust and dirt, and their rough work shoes were the same.

One asked for Major Capner.

I asked who they were.

"I'd rather not say," the bigger boy replied. "Just please let me speak to Father."

"Father! . . . Major!" I called "Come quick. It's for you."

It required a good hard look before he recognized his son. "George!" he exclaimed. "What on earth?"

The boy's chin trembled. He bit his lip before he answered. When he spoke, it was with childish bravado. "I came out to see you. Aren't you going to let me in?" Spying Molly peering over Major's shoulder, George said, "'Lo, Mom," and sent her into hysterics.

'High' Style for Youth

Air-borne Show Plays up Low-Priced Togs

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Who says that a junior needs the sleuthing talents of the FBI to find a smart cotton dress for spring in budget-priced brackets?

At right, is a sunback ensemble of yellow-sprigged calico print on a background of black cotton. This old-fashioned fabric makes a new-fashioned bare-topped dress with a cover-up jacket. The jacket reverses to switch colors from a contrast top of black cotton to a matching top of calico print.

For another smart ensemble (left) made of shimmering gray cotton chambray circled with candy-ping stripes, the sunback dress becomes a street-going frock when a snog messboy jacket is buttoned up by pretty pink buttons.

Typical of the good classic styling which prevailed in this collection is the pale lavender chambray dress (center). The design features a snougly-fitted Empire waistline and a tucked bodice topped by a Peter Pan collar.

Auction Sale Club Feature

The Flat Creek Extension club met April 26 at the home of Mrs. R. L. Wadleigh and Mrs. R. C. Wissman. Twenty members, and four visitors were present. Visitors were: Mrs. Cleo Hinton, of Hammond, Ind., Mrs. Mary Hinton and daughter, Mary Lou, and Mrs. Norval Bopp.

A contributive luncheon was enjoyed at noon.

The afternoon business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. T. Edmundson. Roll call was answered with, "My Hobby." Minutes were read and approved. A card of appreciation for the five dollars the club donated to the Red Cross was read. The club voted to send five dollars to the Cancer Fund.

Mrs. R. C. Wissman, Mrs. Ralph Milburn, and Mrs. D. B. Wilhoit were appointed as a committee to investigate possibilities of the club to invest their savings.

Mrs. Mabry Irwin and Mrs. Fred Fuchs will serve the 4-H club in Hay.

Joyce Snow, of 4-H clothing II project, demonstrated making a buttonhole.

Report On First Aid Class

A report was made of th Red Cross First Aid course, some of the members are taking.

The feature of the days program was an auction sale with Mrs. F. R. Wilhoit, as "Col. Pete" the auctioneer. A large sum was netted from the sale of the clothing, household items and wifts.

The "Pal Box" gifts were distributed.

The May meeting will be held with Mrs. Milton Bopp. Demonstrations will be given on "New Fabrics and Floor Coverings," and on "Bangs Disease and Milk Pasteurization."

"NO LONGER NERVOUS!"
Switching to Famous Cereal Drink Brings Natural Relief

Jittery?... Irritable?... Can't enjoy life fully?... People everywhere—people who once suffered just as you do—have found the answer in switching from coffee and tea to POSTUM.

EXAMPLE: A woman in New York City writes this sincere and moving letter: "My switch to POSTUM has given me a new lease on life! I no longer fear the sleepless nights and the nervous tired feeling that made life a bore!"

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffein—a drug—a nerve stimulant! So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffein or other drug—nothing that can possibly cause nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness!

MAKE THIS TEST: Buy INSTANT POSTUM today—drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days. See if POSTUM doesn't help you, too, to sleep better, feel better, enjoy life more!... INSTANT POSTUM—A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran. A Product of General Foods

Clues to 'Detective Story'

By George Tucker
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK — Sidney Kingsley, the playwright whose "Detective Story" won superlatives from the critics, got his background for it from New York's precinct police stations. Yet he ignored the incidents he saw there.

"You can't write a play by reporting dope addicts and thieves," Kingsley said.

"You go to a police station to see how they process a criminal, and to pick up manners of speech. Then you start writing, and if a murder helps you say something better, you create one.

"But reporting a real murder, for the sake of realism, won't do. None of the incidents in 'Detective Story' really happened. They were contrived."

Kingsley followed this process when he wrote "Men in White," 15 years ago and again in "Dead End," which was produced in 1935.

"I hung around hospitals for three years," Kingsley went on, absorbing background and atmosphere. But this was to get the feel of hospitals, not material for a play. None of the incidents I saw in hospitals was in 'Men in White.' They were all created.

"Dead End," a play on social injustice, dealt with kids who grow into gangsters because they haven't the proper kind of environment.

"When I lived on 52nd street," said Kingsley, "I used to sit on the piers and write. I got to know a lot of kids, how they talked and what their home life was like. That gave me the idea for 'Dead End,' but naturally, the incidents in it were my own inventions."

In this sense, New York's police stations gave Kingsley the background for "Detective Story."

His central character concerns Detective McLeod (Ralph Bellamy) a man who doesn't believe in democratic processes because he feels the Bill of Rights does not function 100 per cent perfectly. He is archaic, a symbol of absolutism.

"Your democracy is a Rube Goldberg contraption," he says.

This comes of his conviction that a certain doctor is guilty of abortions, though technical proof is lacking.

If the democratic process sometimes bungles and protects criminals, McLeod sneers, they ought to get rid of it.

In frustration, he beats the doctor, who feigns fatal injury and names McLeod's wife as a former client.

Kingsley's thesis is whether a man should judge his wife for a very human error, when he is unable to compromise his principles though his future happiness depends on it.

"I felt that we are at the dawn of a new creation," he said in an interview. "A whole new world is in the making. Out of this chaos must come a world security. The issue is whether human rights are to be guaranteed, or discarded, whether we are to be a society of free men, or a society of ants."

I took this to mean that even so odious a man as the doctor must be given his rights until convicted and judged by the law.

Crack New Shanghai Police Ready for Action

Three members of Shanghai's crack police constabulary hold up their tommy guns for inspection. Outfitted with the best equipment and arms, the policemen were organized about a year ago and are prepared to deal with any emergency. With Communist armies advancing on the city, they may be pressed into action for defense or prevent the widespread looting and anarchy that befell Nanking.

New Shanghai Constabulary See Action

Squad members of Shanghai's crack police constabulary search a rickshaw boy and his passenger suspected of carrying unlicensed weapons. Organized about a year ago, the "flying fortress" policemen are prepared to deal with any emergency and may be called upon to fight if Shanghai is defended against Communist capture or prevent the wild looting experienced by Nanking.

Thieves Make Jail Unsafe

AP Newsfeatures

STOCKHOLM — Two inmates of the Haerlanda prison, in western Sweden, had a busman's holiday in jail.

The prison authorities reported that the two men had been stealing bed sheets, underwear and tablecloths from the prison laundry. The two prisoners had almost served their sentences and planned to sell the stolen goods to raise money for a "coming-out party."

A scene from the hit "Detective Story."

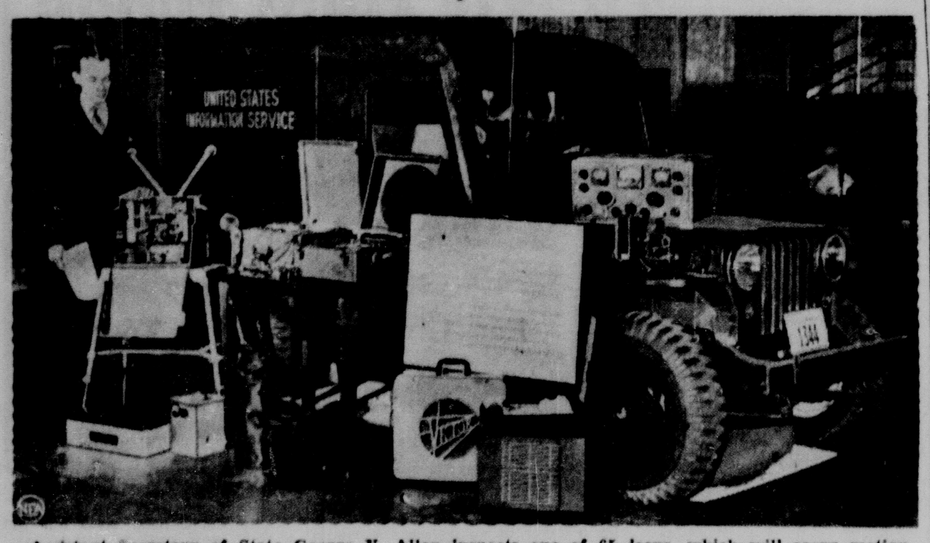
Jeep Puts 'View' Into U. S. Voice To Sell America's Story to World



Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen inspects one of 65 jeeps, which will carry motion pictures projectors, radio, recording and public address equipment to the far corners of the globe.

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The State Department will soon have 65 potent packages of propaganda in action selling the story of America, in pictures, to more than 100,000,000 people around the world.

The packages are jeeps loaded with every kind of picture projector ever dreamed up, plus elaborate radio and recording equipment and a complete public address system. The idea is to turn the Voice of America into the "View of America" and take it to the people in every far corner on the globe.

A Congressional committee which toured Europe in 1947 to see how effective the Voice and other propaganda efforts of the State Department were, discovered that only a handful of the people were being reached with the story. Audiences were mostly limited to those who owned radios and could read. The great mass of the people, including many workers and farmers, just weren't getting America's side of the argument in the cold war.

The picture- and movie-laden jeep is the State Department's answer to this problem. Movies and still pictures, it has been discovered, are excellent mediums for mass education. And when they are brought right to backyards, effort to see them, they're twice as effective.

In addition to telling the story of democracy with movies and slides, the jeep is equipped with powerful short wave radio for picking up actual Voice of America broadcasts. The public address system lets any sized audience in on the programs, giving millions a chance to hear them who wouldn't have been able to otherwise. Transcribed music and educational programs can also be provided for great numbers of people in this way.

Another use for the unit is to record the propaganda programs and speeches of the other countries for later study and analysis.

One or two men will travel with each jeep as it takes its story to the far reaches, depending upon how far from the home base it must go. It is equipped with air mattresses, camping equipment cooking gear, large drinking-water cans and an 80-gallon gas tank. This permits operators to camp out when no other lodging is available.

An operator of one of these compact units must be a competent camera technician, sound man, radio engineer, public relations expert and master of ceremonies.

Films will not be shown simply for entertainment. The film library on each jeep will consist of travelogues, educational films, shorts showing America's manufacturing plants and farms, and newsreels. Slides for presenting various types of lectures are also part of the equipment. The sound accompanying all the slides and movies will be translated into the native language.

The state department hopes to have all 65 of these units in operation by the middle of July. They will be operating in 44 different countries on every continent. Each one costs approximately $4500, including the equipment.

The double-decked, six-engined transport was loaded with zinc alloy bars, used in aircraft tooling. The 30,000 cubic foot interior of the fuselage was only partially filled with the heavy metal bars. The plane will be delivered to the Air Force later this year, after further tests.

GOP Group For Slash In Spending

Senate-House Committee Fires Charge at Council Of 'Propaganda'

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Republican members of a Senate-House committee tonight accused President Truman's economic advisory council of peddling "political propaganda" in support of his ideas for a stable economy.

The GOP minority of the joint economic committee fired the charge in a report assailing Mr. Truman's general stabilization program. That program presented in January calls for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost and for standby authority to restore wage and price controls on a limited basis.

"We reject the basic philosophy of the President's economic report which, in effect, recommends that we set up in this country a planned and controlled economy and increase taxation for that purpose," the Republican group declared, adding:

"We see no immediate evidence of further serious inflation."

The GOP Congress members outlined a substitute eight-point program topped by a demand for a cut in federal spending "so that there may be no necessity for an increase in taxation," and even a "reduction in the tremendous burden of taxation if the international situation improves."

Recommended Study

Last month the Democrats on the joint committee brought out a report which generally endorsed the President's economic program but recommended further study of his tax boost proposal.

Most of Mr. Truman's program is on the shelf in both the Senate and the House. There is no present indication of any action on much of it.

These Republicans signed today's minority report: Senators Taft (Ohio), Flanders (Vt); Watkins, and Reps. Wolcott (Mich), Rich (Pa) and Herter (Mass).

In a sub-title of the minority report headed "use of economic report for political propaganda," the Republicans said:

"We feel that the report of the economic advisors shows quite a few signs of political influence."

Citing an example of what they have in mind, the GOP members added:

"Repeated attacks made on the tax reduction of 1948 adopt not only such economic arguments as can be brought into play, but rely heavily on the political arguments made against that reduction."

That was a reference to the Republican-written income tax-cut bill which Congress passed last year over Mr. Truman's veto.

The minority committee also said the economic advisers, in their report, had repeated "the campaign arguments that the Commodity Credit Corporation was denied necessary storage facilities, a charge which has been completely refuted so far as any effect on 1948 prices or markets ings were concerned."

Substitute Program

The Republicans added:

"With due respect for the President's economic advisers, we believe x x x that government economists are often moved by political considerations which affect their economic judgment x x x."

Besides a cut in federal spending, the substitute program the Republicans outlined calls for:

1. Continued government control of general banking and credit policies through the Federal Reserve Board "in such a manner as to check tendencies which have developed toward inflation or deflation."

2. Expansion of the public works program "if there appears to be too great a deflation," and application of the brakes "if other construction appears to be normal." The Republicans put it this way: "We see no need at the moment for further selective controls (such as wage and price restrictions), but if such need arises it should be dealt with by Congress in specific and limited fields with the greatest protection of liberty."

3. Keeping the government "constantly on the alert to prevent mono-policy and the collusive fixing of prices."

4. Continuation of a price support program for farm commodities "to prevent the development of a depression through a complete collapse in agricultural prices."

Without mentioning the administration's new farm program, the Republicans said the price support program "should be directed not as a relief measure or a guaranteed income equality for individuals, but as a major weapon against distortion between urban and rural areas which could bring collapse to the entire nation."

5. "An active interest" by the government in "the development of housing, particularly in the stability of the housing industry and the reduction in cost."

6. A thorough-going study by the committee of the whole problem of exports and imports "and their effect on a stable economy during the next two or three years."

Fatally Injured While Blasting

PILOT GROVE, Mo., April 28—(AP)—Homer Chamberlain, well known Cooper county auctioneer, was injured fatally today in a dynamite explosion.

He was using the dynamite in blasting post holes in the barn lot at his farm about a half a mile from here. Witnesses said he received the full charge of a blast when he went to investigate the delay in an explosion at one of the holes. He lived about 30 minutes.

Survivors include Mrs. Chamberlain; four daughters, Mrs. Randall Howell, Mrs. Kenneth Esser and Mrs. Hortense McDaniel, Boonville, and Mrs. Wayne Hickam, Fayette, and son, Leslie Chamberlain, Fayette.

Bloody Killing Of Three in Philippines

Widow of First President, Her Daughter, Grandson

MANILA, April 28—(AP)—Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the Philippines' first president, her daughter and grand son were killed today in a bloody machine gun ambuscade that brought death to 10 persons.

Ten others were wounded.

President Elpidio Quirino, notified of the ambush in the mountains or northern Luzon, ordered an immediate campaign against the killers, whom he identified as bandits.

The Quezon party, with an armed constabulary escort, left Manila shortly after 5 a. m. local time for Baler on the northeast coast of Luzon. The 60-year-old widow was to have unveiled a marker in memory of her husband, Manuel Quezon.

Incomplete reports here said the party was moving through a narrow gorge of the Sierra Madre mountains 88 airline miles from Manila when a burst of machine gun fire riddled the first two automobiles. They carried Mrs. Quezon and her immediate party.

Troopers Returned Fire

Constabulary troopers returned the fire. There was a sharp fight in which the troopers suffered three dead and seven wounded.

The remaining members of the party were forced to retreat and raced back to the village of Bangbong, where constabulary reinforcements were called.

Later at the scene of the ambush the constabulary found the bodies of Mrs. Quezon, her daughter, Maria Aurora (baby) Quezon and the mortally wounded Felipe Buencamino, III, 28 husband of Mrs. Quezon's youngest daughter, Zenaida.

The wounded included Maj. Gen. Rafael Jalandoni, retired army chief of staff, who notified President Quirino and the Philippine Red Cross of the ambush.

Barely nine hours later, another ambush was reported at a point about 60 miles north of Manila and south of Cabanatuan, capital of Neuva Ecija province, notbed of the communist-ied Hukbalahaps.

There Mayor David Ventura of Santa Rosa, two Philippine constabulaty soldiers and one civilian were reported killed.

Campaign Against Bandits

In Baguio President Quierino ordered the constabulary and Army to rush reinforcements to trouble Nueva Ecija province to undertake a general campaign against bandits. The President said he could not believe the attack had been led by Communist directed armed peasants. Called Hukbalahaps.

He said Mrs. Quezon was loved too much by these people to be harmed by them.

There were reports that the bodies had been looted of jewelry and valuables. Quirino said this was a further indication that the attackers were bandits and not Huks.

Only last week the President had announced that the Huks had been broken into small, ineffective bands and reduced to marauding for food.

News of Mrs. Quezon's death spread like wildfire through Manila and over radio networks throughout the islands.

There was evidence of shock and anger from Filipinos.

The 50-Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre will officially open tonight and the picture will start just as soon as the sun goes down and it is dark enough to throw the projector on the giant screen.

It was to have opened Thursday night, but finishing touches were not completed, due to the rain the first of the week, which delayed surfacing the parking space.

Now everything is in perfect order to serve movie-goers, it was announced by the management Thursday.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill increasing state payments on premiums to county and district fairs from one-third to one-half.

The bil also hikes the maximum a fair may get from the state from $6,000 to $10,000.

The vote was 99 for and 8 against.

The measure was introduced by Reps. Charles Ray Brown and Lynn A. Stokes, both Greene county Democrats.

Parliamentary Drill For Music Club Women

State Convention Into Second Day Of 3-Day Meeting

The second day of the Missouri State Federation of Music Clubs convention opened at the First Methodist church Thursday morning at 9:00 o'clock. The program started with a parliamentary drill, presided over by Mrs. Frederick S. Haeberle, of St. Louis, registered parliamentarian. The various procedures were discussed and questions were answered by the speaker. The meeting adjourned at noon and reconvened at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, with a choral forum, president over by Mrs. Otto Grasse, Kansas City, choral chairman.

Dr. Delbert Johnson, of Kansas City gave an address on Civic Music.

The climax of the afternoon's session was a Choral program presented by the Singing Scouts, of Sedalia; the Olive Ewing Dallmeyer Club, of Jefferson; the Helen G. Steele Music Club of Sedalia; and the Clef Ensemble, of Kansas City.

The convention resumed activities at the Federation Banquet that was held Thursday evening at the First Methodist church.

Wednesday Night Program

The program before the convention of the Missouri State Federation of Music Clubs Wednesday night at the First Methodist church was both pleasing and inspiring.

Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau, state chairman of Music in Religious Education, presided.

A processional by the A Cappella Choir of Missouri Valley College of Marshall preceded the singing of several hymns led by Louis A. Hansen, director of the A Cappella choir and accompanied on the organ by Vincent C. Robbins of Kansas City. The voices of the audience joining with those of the choir in singing those songs of the church was truly heart warming.

Panel Discussion

Miss Miller gave a short talk on "The Importance of Music in Everyday Living," after which there was a panel discussion on "The Importance of Music in the Worship Service." The following took part in the discussion: Dean Claude Fichchorn of Missouri Valley college gave the choir director's viewpoint; Rev. J. F. King of the First Methodist church told what the minister expected in his church music and Henry Salveter, a lawyer, presented the layman's attitude.

Dean Fichchorn gave Bach's definition of what church music should be. "Church music should be for the glory of God and for pleasant recreation." This set the theme for the program which followed. Both the organist and the choir presented a varied program of the highest type of church numbers. All numbers were well presented and graciously received. This program, one of the highlights of the convention, closed Wednesday's meeting.

Preliminary Drill

This morning, Mrs. Frederick S. Haeberle, of St. Louis, conducted a preliminary drill. Mrs. Haeberle is recording secretary of the National Association of Parliamentarians. She organized and is president of the St. Louis unit of the N. A. P.

At a business meeting, following the drill, Mrs. Duensing, presided and received reports of the various committees.

Report Rejected By Engineers

CHICAGO, April 28. — (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today rejected a presidential fact finding report denying a second engineer on diesel locomotives.

The action left the B.L.E. free to call a proposed strike against 15 western railroads May 11. But the union indicated such steps was not likely.

James P. Shields, assistant grand engineer of the union, said "A strike is not the only alternative."

Shields said "The general chairmen of the union, in consideration of the report of a presidential fact finding board, unanimously voted to reject the recommendations of the board and have instructed me to write a letter to President Truman informing him of our decision."

Shields said "So far we have taken no additional action which we wish to make public."

The B.L.E. twice has demanded that railroads put an extra engineer on multiple-unit diesel electric locomotives. The union claims a second man is necessary for safety and efficiency. The present crew is an engineer and a fireman.

Presidential fact boards have rejected the B.L.E.'s demand both times.

Postmaster Names Going to Senate

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—President Truman said today he is sending to the Senate the names of approximately 2,000 postmaster nominees.

He said 1,000 nominations will be made today and an equal number will follow later.

Most of them are new nominations he added, but many others are names submitted to the Republican-controlled 80th Congress last year and not acted on.

Widow of Doyle Palmer Injured

MARSHALL, Mo., April 28—(AP)—Mrs. Doyle Palmer, Ottawa, Kas., was injured today in a motor car accident only a few miles from where the body of her husband was recovered from the Missouri river last week.

Mrs. Palmer suffered a fractured shoulder and torn ligaments in her legs and feet. Granville B. Scanland, 66, Hutchinson, Kas. (1801 North Adams St) driver of the car, suffered body bruises, head cuts and rib fractures, and Mrs. Scanland received fractured ribs, a broken shoulder blade and possibly internal injuries. All were taken to a Waverly, Mo., clinic for treatment.

G. B. Wheeler, Waverly, driver of a truck involved in the accident, suffered minor injuries.

Mrs. Palmer and the Scanlands were returning from Steleville, Mo., where Palmer was buried yesterday.

Palmer, Ottawa, Kas., business man, disappeared last December 26 while on a plane flight from Ottawa to Kansas City. No trace of him was found until April 21 when his body was found in the river.

More Money For Lending

Federal Reserve Board Lowers Requirements

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—The Federal Reserve Board tonight lowered the reserve requirements of its 7,000 member banks by $1,200,000,000 making more money available for lending.

This was the fourth step taken by the board in two months to combat developing deflationary forces as reflected in lowered prices, production sales and employment.

The lowered requirements will become effective next week.

The reduction in the amount that various classes of banks must turn over to the Federal Reserve Banks as reserves—there by freezing them out of the lending stream was as follows:

New York and Chicago banks—the proportion of checking account deposits which must be kept in reserve is cut from 26 per cent to 24, effective May 5; the proportion of savings deposits required to be held as reserve is reduced from 7½ per cent to 7, also effective May 5.

"Reserve" banks (those in large cities other than New York and Chicago)—checking account reserves cut from 22 to 21 per cent, effetive May 5; savings reserves reduced from 7½ to 7 per cent, also effective May 5.

"Country" banks—checking account reserves reduced from 16 to 15 per cent, effective May 1; saving reserves from 7½ to 7 per cent, effective May 1.

Donaldson to Visit Air Field

Confirming a statement made at Warrensburg in June 1948, that he would return to Missouri this spring to discuss the progress and future of the Sedalia Army Air Field, Scott Donaldson, assistant to Secretary of Air Stuart Symington, is coming to Missouri on May 18. He will fly from Washington D. C., arriving at the SAAF shortly before noon.

Edwin C. Houx, chairman of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce Air Base Committee, talked with Mr. Donaldson by telephone and at that time he stated he would fly to Missouri and discuss the air field.

A delegation from Knob Noster Warrensburg, Sedalia and possibly several from other localities will meet Mr. Donaldson at the air field and go to Warrensburg for dinner at Riggle's.

They will then tour Warrensburg Sedalia, and other towns in the vicinity where building has progressed over the past eleven months, which is of interest to the Air Forces in connection with their housing project and request.

Saved Children From Death

TOKYO, April 28—(AP)—Hiroshi Nakamura, 16, a war orphan, today saved 11 small children from death in a fire that destroyed an orphanage.

The tots, ranging in age from four to six, were trapped on the second floor of the orphanage, from which most of the 47 occupants had reached safety.

Katy Shops Will Reopen Next Monday

The M. K. & T. railroad shops, which shut down temporarily April 12 will reopen Monday morning, May 2, Harry Brunkhorst, superintendent of the shops, announced this morning. The entire 140 men affected by the layoff will return to work at that time.

The shops were closed temporarily due to shortage in the budget fund for the local shops for the period of April 12 to May 2.

R. E. L. Hill Heads Bankers Conference

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28—(AP)—Robert E. L. Hill, Columbia, Mo., was elected president of the Central States Conference of Bankers here today.

The conference closed its two-day annual business program with the election.

Arouses Ire Of Democrats In the South

Accuse Truman Of 'Patronage Purchase Tag'

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—Southern Democrats angrily accused President Truman today of putting a "patronage purchase tag" on congressional votes for the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

In the House, a stormy row perceptibly widened the breach between northern and southern Democrats.

With spectators' galleries jampacked, Dixie lawmakers shouted their wrath against Mr. Truman's statement that Democratic votes on the Taft-Hartley issue will be regarded as a test of party loyalty.

At his press conference, Mr. Truman had indicated bluntly that senators and representatives who fail to vote for repeal of the two-year-old labor law will have little to say about federal patronage plums.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) shouted: "This attempt to browbeat members of Congress into voting for vicious legislation is the most contemptible conduct I have ever known.

"I", the fiery Mississippian thundered into the loudspeaker microphone, "refuse to be bluffed."

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) gave them something more to cheer about when he whirled on Herbert and other Democrats who supported the States Rights ticket in the election last November.

McCormack said they were only "sitting by tolerance" on the Democratic side of the House, and, he said, if many Democrats had their way, those who failed to support Mr. Truman last year wouldn't even be considered as Democrats.

Test Vote Still Ahead

With the clash still going at full steam and tempers getting shorter by the minute, the House adjourned at 4:24 p. m. (E.D.T.) With the first test vote on the labor bill still to come.

The major test is expected tomorrow or possibly Saturday with a vote on a bill by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) which would substitute for the administration's bill sponsored by Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich).

Wood's measure would kill the Taft-Hartley act in name but retain many of its major features. The Lesinski bill would junk the T-H law almost completely and revive the old 1935 Wagner act with some changes.

Administration leaders were still confident they can beat down the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition backing the Wood bill. But they conceded that a few bars may have to be admitted into the Lesinski bill, by way of amendments, before it is passed.

Rep. Short (R-Mo), alternately grinning and shouting at the top of his voice, spoke in favor of the Taft-Hartley law.

He said he had known work since he was 8 years old. He had "looked upon the south end of a northbound mule," he said, and he had shoveled manure and "the smell was more wholesome and sweet and rejuvenating than the smell of some people I meet, even in Washington."

Short said it has been charged that the Wood bill would wipe out unions. Then he roared at the Democrats: "Has the Taft-Hartley act wiped out unions? Don't be silly. Don't be idotic. Don't be dis-honest."

Governor Answers Minister Giving Stand on Gambling

ST. LOUIS, April 28 — (AP) — Gov. Forrest Smith said today he is opposed to commercialized gambling and has previously made known his views on it.

The statement was in a telegram to the Rev. Holland B. London, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of St. Louis, who had asked the governor to clarify his position on commercialized gambling.

"I am somewhat nonplused at your statement in the telegram saying there are thousands who in questioning regarding my stand," the governor said in a statement, as released by the pastor.

"I am at a loss to know how anyone that read my inaugural address or listened to it could have formed the opinion that you stated in your telegram.

"It is true that I did not mention commercialized gambling, but I made my statement all inclusive when I stated I would strictly enforce all laws. It may be you became confused by reading untrue, malicious and innuendo newspaper articles that were not backed up by facts.

"Rev. London, I am opposed to commercialized gambling, murder rape, arson and all other violations, and none of these will be violated during the time that I am governor with my knowledge and consent.

"Appreciate getting your telegram and giving me an opportunity to again repeat my policy on law enforcement."

Mr. London, who has been preaching against gambling, said he intends to ask the governor "why there are so many places of commercialized gambling open in St. Louis."

Truman Talks on Loyalty

Democratic Votes On Taft-Hartley Repeal Will be Test He States Today

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP) —President Truman said today Democratic votes in Congress on Taft-Hartley repeal will be a test of party loyalty.

He put actions of the lawmakers on other Democratic platform measures in much the same class.

Thus Mr. Truman indicated that the Senators and representatives who fail to go along with striking out the two-year old labor law and adhering to other platform pledges will have little to say about who gets federal jobs.

The President left wide-open the question of whether the lawmakers who failed to back the party candidates in last fall's election will have any voice in patronage. On that point he suggested that reporters wait and see how it works out.

Defines Democrats

Mr. Truman's news conference discussion of the issue of party loyalty went beyond—it if was not in actual conflict with—earlier comments on Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Discussing yesterday's conference with Democratic party and congressional leaders, the President said that Democrats are those people who support the Democratic platform.

He described the platform as the law of the party.

By William F. Arbogast

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP) — Northern and southern Democrats got into a hot fight on the House floor today over President Truman's warning that party members who refuse to vote for Taft-Hartley Act repeal will fall out of White House grace.

The chamber was in the midst of debate on the union-hated labor law.

The fireworks began popping right after Rep. Wood (D-Ga) formally asked the House to take his bill, which would keep most of the Taft-Harley Act, as a substitute for the administration repeal measure.

Mr. Truman said he regards the vote on the pending bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act as one of those tests of party loyalty.

Support of the platform should carry through after the election as well as during the campaign, the President said. He added that he stands squarely behind the platform and expects other loyal Democrats to do likewise.

A Democratic Pledge

The platform contains a Democratic pledge to support the enactment of civil rights legislation. Southern opposition to Mr. Truman's proposals for anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and anti-job discrimination split the party wide open in the last campaign.

Mr. Truman's news conference statement left a question on just how much say on federal jobs will be given to congressmen who jumped the reservation last fall.

The President was asked if patronage will be denied to members of Congress who gave support to the Thurmond-Wright States' Rights ticket.

Just wait and see how the thing works out, the President said, adding that he thinks the question will answer itself as time goes on.

Jobs Involved

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath told reporters after a conference with the President yesterday that jobs will be denied to persons who opposed Mr. Truman in the general election campaign or who made nasty remarks in public about the President in connection with his civil rights program.

McGrath said, however, that members of Congress will continue to handle patronage regardless of how they vote on the President's program in the Senate and House.

Mr. Truman's remarks seemed to cast doubt on whether lawmakers who oppose vital issues in his program will continue to be recognized in patronage matters.

In response to a question about the "party loyalty" test McGrath said will be applied in patronage cases, Mr. Truman said he was talking about votes in Congress.

McGrath previously had denied reports that members of the House who vote against the administration's substitute for the Taft-Hartley act would be punished politically. Mr. Truman's observations indicated that such a move may be in his mind.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) claimed that he was the "first victim" of the administration's new patronage policy. He is a States Rights advocate and an ardent critic of the President's "civil rights" program.

Rankin said his recommendation of Julian B. Gardner for appointment as acting postmaster at Columbus, Miss., had been ignored.

Seventy-four Die In Triple Crash

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, April 28—(AP)—A triple train collision killed 74 persons and injured 90 others today. It was the worst railroad disaster in the history of the Union of South Africa.

Three electric trains all headed in the same direction crashed into one another on a high embankment near Orlando in Natic township 10 miles from Johannesburg.

Two of the trains were standing on the track when the third train came around a bend.

The moving train crashed into the rear of the first stationary train, ramming it into the one just ahead.

Forty passengers were crushed to death in one such alone.

Among the dead were two white Europeans and 14 Indians. The remainder were natives.

Spearhead of Reds Moving To Shanghai

Americans Leave On Ships About 1500 Left Behind

By Fred Hampsor

SHANGHAI, April 28—(AP)—Three Communist spearheads were moving towards Shanghai and the Hangchow sector tonight but at a cautious pace.

Best available reports through the Nationalist garrison command said a column of about 4,000 Red troops was edging toward Shanghai from Soochow (Wuhsien) on the west and was about 40 miles from this great city.

A somewhat smaller Communist column was reported following the railway southeast from Soochow towards Kashing, 40 miles from Soochow. Kashing is a railway junction point 62 miles southwest of Shanghai.

The third Communist force, of unknown size, was moving overland toward Kashing from the east and was last reported about 30 miles away.

Trains Still Operate

Once Kashing falls, Shanghai will be sealed off by land. Trains still were operating to Hangchow via Kashing during the afternoon.

The evacuation gate from this threatened city was slowly closing, most of the foreigners remaining were here to stay, come what might.

The American liner President Wilson sailed during the afternoon after taking aboard about 300 persons of all nationalities, including about 150 Americans.

Another 118 American sailed aboard the U. S. Navy hospital ship Repose, presumably for Hong Kong.

About 1,500 Americans remained behind.

The U. S. consulate confirmed that the Navy had closed its shore installations and left behind only a few small craft. It said the navy ships which left the Wangpoo to avoid possible entrapment were still in the Yangtze estuary, but that the Eldorado, Adm. Oscar C. Badger's flagship had departed.

Sanction Strike At A Ford Plant

DETROIT, April 28.—(AP)—A strike of 6,000 workers at Ford's Lincoln-Mercury plant was given official union sanction today to start May 5.

At the same time, however, the CIO United Auto Workers executive board told another 60,000 Ford employes at the giant Rouge plant to hold back. It said it wanted to investigate speed-up charges there similar to those it said it had confirmed at Lincoln-Mercury.

Company-union talks aimed at ending the dispute are scheduled to resume tomorrow at both plants. The UAW locals at the two plants contend production lines move too fast, endangering the workers' health and safety.

Strike authorization today coincided with a meeting of the UAW's National Ford council to put final touches on the union's spring drive. Prime goals are pensions and medical care plans, with wage increases occupying a secondary spot.

Elsewhere on the auto labor front there were these developments:

1. Chrysler Corp. announced indefinite layoffs of 10,500 employes because of a "wildcat walkout" and a shortage of bodies. The walkout of 44 men followed the discharge of a shop steward, the company said.

2. At Packard Motor Co., 8,000 production employes were to start an indefinite layoff tonight. The company blamed a shortage of brakes caused by the Bendix strike at South Bend, Ind.

3. An additional 19,000 workers remained idle at Nash Motors and Kaiser-Frazer Corp. because of the Bendix strike.

Get More Trustful of Soviets

Negotiations to More Favorable Turn Looking to End Blockade

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP) —President Truman buoyed hopes today for an early end to the East-West deadlock over Berlin, saying he believes the Soviets are acting in good faith in negotiations to lift the blockade.

He told a news conference he thinks the situation is encouraging.

Although the President did not go beyond those terse comments they contributed to a growing feeling of confidence here that the thorny Berlin crisis is rapidly nearing a solution.

Diplomatic authorities, however, interpreted Mr. Truman's remarks as basis for optimism only in regard to the blockade dispute. They indicated that if and when an agreement is worked out to lift the year-old transport carrier from the German capital it will then throw open the broader problem of Germany's future for consideration of the big four Foreign Ministers Council.

Wait On Moscow

As the western powers waited for Moscow to make the next move on the Berlin question, these were other developments:

1. Diplomats of six western nations signed an agreement in London setting up international control of Germany's rich Ruhr Valley where its prized industries are centered. Russia, which wants a hand in the Ruhr control, was ignored in the new pact signed by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

2. Warren Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, told the Senate foreign relations committee that the North Atlantic defense pact is needed because Russia has "brazenly" violated its pledges to refrain from use of threats and force against other countries.

3. An Associated Press dispatch from Moscow said diplomats there considered Russia and the western powers have made a start toward a new stage of mutual relations in their negotiations over Berlin.

4. A new incident in Berlin added fresh strain to the delicate East-West relations as the Russians threatened to halt barge traffic from the British sector. Both the Russians and British posted armed guards at three canal locks awaiting a dawn showdown when the barges are due to start moving again. The Russian guards were under orders not to allow any vessels through which do not have Soviet registry.

5. British and French officials in Berlin joined with Americans in protesting scheduled air-to-ground firing by Soviet fighter planes in the Airlift corridor. Previous protests, however, have been ignored by the Russians.

It was understood that Jessup told Acheson that Malik had referred to Moscow the request of the United States, Britain and France for an exact and official statement of the terms on which the Russians are willing to end the Berlin restrictions. Russia's reply, therefore, is the next move and western capitals are marking time waiting for this.

Gird For Showdown

BERLIN, April 28—(AP)—The Russians and British girded tonight for a showdown at dawn on a blockade issue newly raised by the Russians—barge traffic on canals through the British sector.

The Soviet motive was obscure, particularly in view of the Berlin's informal offer this week to lift the blockade of western Berlin.

The Russians, continuing a maneuver launched unexpectedly 24 hours before, sent five officers to canal locks at three points inside the British sector with orders to stop all barges lacking Soviet registry. The officer wore sidearms.

Two armored cars backed up British military police guarding the locks, and reinforcement stood by for any eventuality when the barges start moving at daylight.

The Russians made their first attempt to stop the movement of British barges Wednesday. The British lodged a protest and the order was rescinded. Then, without explanation, the Russian reinstituted the order and sent in the force of five officers today. Barge traffic was stopped for a time this afternoon but, after another complaint, it was resumed. To some observers, it seemed the Russians were just testing allied reactions.

British officials at the locks speculated that there had been a misunderstanding of an order in the Soviet command.

Lindenwood Teacher Heads State AAUW

Convention Closes, Meet in 1951 In Cape Girardeau

Dr. Alice Parker of Lindenwood college, St. Charles, was elected president of the Missouri Division of the American Association of University Women at the state convention of that organization which closed a two-day session here Saturday night.

Cape Girardeau was selected as the convention city in 1951.

Other officers elected were: Miss Willie Whitson, Kirksville State Teachers college, Kirksville; vice-president; Mrs. William L. Bradshaw, Columbia, second vice-president; Mrs. Bedford Knipschild, Norborne, treasurer; Dr. Agnes Sibley, Lindenwood College, St. Charles, editor of the bulletin; Mrs. R. M. Logsdon, Trenton, recording secretary; Miss Evalyn Johnson, Springfield; Mrs. Elmer L. Deicke, St. Louis, Mrs. Lowell Johnson Kansas City and Mrs. F. M. McCall, Chillicothe, directors.

The convention closed with a banquet Saturday night held at the Bothwell hotel in the Ambassador Room, with Dr. Parker, president elect, presiding.

Dr. Phoebe Morrison, AAUW Associate in International Relations, gave the address.

Another Crucial Debate

Dr. Morrison said that within the last few years, the people of the United States have listened to their Congress debate the renewal of the Marshall Plan and the largest military budget ever submitted in peace. Now they face another crucial debate, she said, that on the North Atlantic Pact, recently signed in Washington and now before the Senate.

The document represents a step, the taking if which will be a radical departure from Madison's American Policy, as was the signing of the Charter of San Francisco, Dr. Morrison said. Heretofore, the United States has been unwilling to take such a step and many hesitate now, she pointed out, and many feel that the instrument set up under this treaty will defeat the purpose for which the United Nations was founded. Others feel she continued, that it may save the United Nations, that it may write the peace for the UN to keep.

This issue, as yet unsolved, adds to the doubts as to the efficiency of the world organizations, Dr. Morrison, said and this should not be true as the educated citizen knows all too well. The specialized agencies have made no small contribution to peace, she said.

Hope In Education

The trouble is that peaceful action is not dramatic, Dr. Morrison said, it doesn't make a good story, anymore than the crusade for more and better teachers. But the hope of peace lies in the specialized agencies, and the theme that motivates them—education.

It is part of citizenship to know both the grim issues of the Security Council, but also the emerging and expanding program of education within the United Nations, Dr. Morrison said. Nor can it stop there, she continued, it must include the American Program, the Fulbright Act, the Legislation for Exchange of Persons and all similar projects fostered by the United States. Conscious of both sides of the picture she stated, we find hope for peace, educated in both fields of action, we have within our hands the instruments with which to write peace.

Appropriate Decorations

The speaker's table was centered with a world globe of plastic, mirrors and flags surrounded with handmade dolls in the authentic costumes of the nations of the United Nations. Other tables had Trees of Freedom surrounded by the dolls in the costumes of the various countries.

The arrangements for the banquet decorations and program was made by the Warrensburg Branch AAUW in charge of Mrs. R. F. Wood.

Invocation was by Mrs. W. F. Knox, of Warrensburg and music was by Warrensburg, people, Mrs. Frank Lidral, in two piano numbers; three vocal solos by Miss Eleanor Shockey and a piano duo by Mrs. Frank Lidral and Mrs. C. A. Burmeister.

Mrs. Wood was assisted by the following committee members: Mrs. Clifton Burmeister, Miss Luretta Smith, Miss Delta Neville, Mrs. Lucas Stone and Mrs. Flossie Gilliam, all of Warrensburg.

Banquet Friday Night

Dr. Karl H. Berns of the National Education Association was the speaker at the banquet Friday night at the Bothwell hotel, on the subject "Whither Bound American Education."

"Education can set us free and give us peace," Dr. Berns declared.

Telling of the city in which he lives, Washington, D. C. Dr. Berns said that the world watches that city for there lies the destiny of the world. He said that what becomes of the world is a race between the atom bomb and education, but that he believe that education will win. The strength of America, he said, is measured not in atom bombs and machine guns but in its human wealth.

Lack Of Education Stressed

He told of the lack of education for various reasons but, said Dr. Berns, we did not realize that we are lacking so greatly in providing education until the last war when more young men were rejected because they were not even able to write their own names than any other reason. This, he said, was due to the lack of both schools and teachers.

During the war, Dr. Berns said, thousands of people left the teaching profession. He said that never in all the history of this country has the public been so aroused about a profession and never will so much depend on the teaching profession. He urged a high standard for teachers, with the brightest of students to be encouraged to go into that profession and salaries for a high standard of living comparable to other professions and lines of work.

Mrs. David T. Blake, state president, of Salisbury, presided and invocation was by Mrs. Alma Hausam, of Sedalia.

The speaker was introduced by Everett Keith, of Columbia, secretary of the Missouri State Teachers Association.

Men's Choral Club Sang

The music was furnished by the Sedalia Mens Choral club, of which Abe Rosenthal is conductor and Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist, singing four numbers and Miss Geraldine Teufel and Mrs. Duane Ewing, duo pianist, of Sedalia, playing numbers.

Storm Damage Friday Night

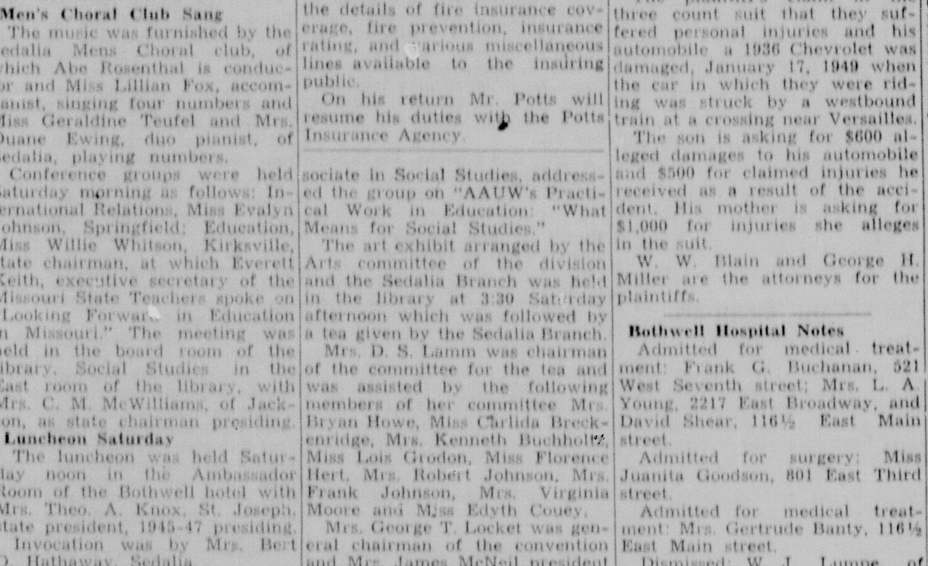
The broken boards of the once garage are shown leaning against and on top of two buildings of H. R. Kerby, owner of the property across the alley where the garage was formerly located. Below: The one-car garage of L. L. Hood, 1801 South Sneed avenue, also destroyed by the tornado, Friday night. The Hood automobile, a Chevrolet, parked just outside of the garage, was not damaged. New Drive-in Theatre as Seen From an Airplane



The new 50 Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre, two miles west of Sedalia on Highway 50 at the Main street junction, as seen from the air Saturday morning. It will be open for operation Thursday evening, the first show starting at approximately 7:30 o'clock, depending on the amount of darkness, W. E. Kirk, manager states. (Bill Padgett Photo)

Early arrivals at the New Drive-In Theatre will find a well equipped playground to amuse the children and also a refreshment stand serving everything from cigars to giant hot dogs.

An all technicolor program has been selected for the opening, Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson in "Two Guys From Texas," being the feature attraction, supplemented by two color cartoons including Bugs Bunny.

Joseph Ghoshen, local owner of the Uptown theater, saw the possibilities of a drive-in theatre in Sedalia and took steps to make Sedalia one of the first cities in Missouri to have one constructed.

Last August Mr. Ghoshen made arrangements with E. W. Thompson to lease ten acres of land where the 50 highway drive-in has been built. He then looked for the largest drive-in operators in this section of the nation to assist him in making Sedalia's drive-in be among the best.

He selected Commonwealth Theatres, which last year constructed large drive-in theatres in Joplin and Kansas City. The Riverside and Crest Drive-ins in Kansas City accommodate at least 1,000 cars, each. Commonwealth also has outdoor theatres under construction in Columbia, Mo., and Lawrence, Kas.

When arrangements were complete the Commonwealth Drive-in division headed by Jack D. Braunagel, with Mr. Ghoshen started the work rolling. Dick Orear, in charge of all construction of the Commonwealth theatres supervised the construction. Management of the drive-in will be under the direction of Mr. Braunagel.

Local Contractors

All of the construction work was done by local contractors. Grading contract was let to Marvin Howard Construction Co., and the building contractor was Virgil Hogan. Queen City Electric Co. has handled all electrical work and the Independent Plumbing Co. took care of that work.

The screen tower was pre-fabricated by the Timber Structures Corp., of Portland, Ore., makers of giant truss work. It will show you a picture approximately 40 by 50 feet in dimension, about 3 times the size of the ordinary motion picture screen.

The drive-in itself will accommodate 400 cars, each with an individual in-car-speaker, with which the car occupant controls the volume. The picture can be clearly seen from any location in the area. There will also be additional parking space in the rear of the area to take care of cars waiting for the next shows. These cars can also see and hear the show from this position by

Small Tornado Strikes South Part of City

Two Garages Blown Down in Vicinity Of Katy Shops

A small tornado struck in the south part of the city about 7:00 o'clock Friday night destroying two garages — the ten-car cover garage of Mrs. Margaret Bradshaw on Twentieth street between Carr and Sneed avenues, and the one car garage of Lewis L. Hood, 1801 South Sneed avenue. Persons in the vicinity received no injuries but were frightened by the strong winds.

H. R. Kerby, 1608 South Park avenue, a former baseball player, was standing between two buildings on his ground at Twentieth street and Sneed avenue, watching a fire when the wind struck. "I was leaning against a post watching a small trash fire, when I heard the wind. Next I noticed the long garage across the alley begin to go into the air and I turned and ran east. I suppose it was just instinct that made me run, but I can say I ran faster last night, than any time I circled the bases while playing baseball," Mr. Kerby said.

Mr. Kerby explained the wind started blowing about 7:10 o'clock and gradually became stronger, catching the open garage and carrying it into the air. "It stopped blowing suddenly and everything was quiet again," he said.

More of a Covering

The long garage, which was built in the early part of the 1920's was constructed as more of a covering for cars used by employees of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad shops, across from the shops. It had a roof and walls along the alley and at both ends, with the front part mostly open. The construction was such that it was "made to order for a strong wind to pick it up," as a bystander remarked. When the wind hit, it seemed as if it was a small tornado and it carried the building into the air nearly twenty feet and dropped it across the alley on and against the two buildings on Mr. Kerby's property.

Slight damage resulted to the two Kerby buildings when timbers pushed back shingles on the roofs. The buildings were only jolted and not moved by the impact or by the wind.

Telephone Wires Ripped Down

Eight telephone wires strung on poles down the alley were ripped down and cross arms on telephone poles were torn off. Workmen of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., were busy Saturday repairing the telephone services.

Mr. Hood stated he was in his home when the wind started blowing and it seemed to last about a minute. The next thing he knew his garage had been blown down. He had parked his Chevrolet automobile on the drive leading into the garage, but had not driven in. The car escaped damage.

Girl is Thrown From Tractor

Miss Rena Marie Snapp, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snapp of Route 1, Beaman, was critically injured shortly before 6:00 o'clock Saturday evening when she fell from a tractor near the Snapp farm home about 20 miles east of Sedalia.

Miss Snapp was driving a farm tractor to the mail box, about three-fourths of a mile from the home, and was within 60 feet of it when the tractor apparently hit a stump and threw the girl beneath it. Harvey Cornine, who lives a short distance from the scene of the accident, was the only witness, and was unable to see exactly how the girl was run over. The tractor went across the road and hit a tree. The road is a small private one leading to several homes from a farm-to-market road.

Mr. Snapp said that the girl was familiar with driving a tractor, and must have been thrown off it after it had been thrown out of control.

Miss Snapp was brought to the Bothwell hospital for emergency treatment in the Gillespie ambulance, and was treated by Dr. A. J. Campbell and Dr. Carl D. Siegel. She sustained a badly fractured left thigh, many bruises and abrasions, and possible internal injuries. She also suffered shock and considerable loss of blood, and it appeared that her head had been run over or thrown against the stump. She was given blood plasma, and will be X-rayed today after recovery from shock. Her condition was described as very critical, and she had not regained consciousness at midnight.

Saturday afternoon the group made a tour of the Democrat-Capital plant. They also toured the Beatrice Foods company and the Coca-Cola Bottling plants. The visitors spent the noon hour at Liberty park.

Car Turns Over

Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe, 5210 Wren avenue, St. Louis, failed to make a curve while going through Knob Noster about 1:00 o'clock Saturday morning and the Buick 1938 sedan in which they were riding turned completely over. The couple, en route to Independence to visit Mrs. Wolfe's mother, escaped injury except for a few scratches and shock.

Students Stop Here on 'Sneak' To The Ozarks

Bus Driver Slips Away From Them, But They Have Fun

Teen-age boys and girls in jeans and bright colored sweaters and jackets swarmed like bees around the corner of Main street and Osage avenue Thursday morning and for a radius of about two blocks in every direction.

It was "Sneak Day" for seniors in the Olathe, Kas., high school, which is the day they sneak off from the school without letting the other classes know they are going, for a trip. This trip was to Bagnell dam and plans were that the 67 students, along with C. H. Branson, principal of the school; C. M. McBurney, sponsor of the senior class and Mrs. McBurney; and Miss Thelma Pierce and Miss Kathleen Fajen, faculty members, would stop in Sedalia for breakfast.

Two big busses left Olathe at 4 o'clock that morning and arrived in Sedalia a little before 7 o'clock. Upon reaching here one bus developed a little trouble and went to a garage for repairs and the other bus, with two drivers, just left, apparently to look the town over.

Idea Reversed

The idea of "Sneak Day" was reversed on the seniors, the bus sneaked away and didn't come back for two hours. According to one of the boys the bus that went for repairs returned within a short time but the other bus didn't and instead of leaving Sedalia at 7:20 as was planned it was about 9:20. They even asked the police to help them find the bus, some of the girls said.

The northesst corner of Main and Osage was lined with youngsters, both standing on the corner and sitting on the curb. Some of the boys and girls were in the bus that had returned and many of them were in one of the waiting rooms of the Missouri Pacific depot nearby. Some visited the police station and some wandered up and down the streets.

They fussed and fumed about the missing bus but they were having fun just the same. They played with gay colored balloons, balls on long rubber bands and read comic books. They investigated everything that looked interesting and watched the streamliner come in and go out.

One of the boys with a ball on a rubber was circling it around when he saw a woman coming that he was sure to hit unless he did something fast. He did. He swung it a little to one side and wrapped it around a parking meter.

Some of the girls were not only disturbed that the bus was gone, but with it were their lunches. They wondered if the bus would come back and if it did would their lunches still be there.

State Hospital Fire Hazards

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. April 28—(AP)—Older buildings at State Hospital No. 2 here constitute serious fire hazards, the eleemosynary committee of the state legislature has been informed.

The report was forwarded to the committee by Leo J. Urbanski, St. Joseph fire chief. It was based on an inspection requested by Jerome Schellhorn, St. Joseph, vice chairman of the committee.

Chief Urbanski said he found fire escape doors locked, inflamable records stored in the frame attic over the administration building and no automatic fire doors to prevent the spread of flames.

He also noted wooden stairways. Wooden passages between buildings and odd size fire hose that would not connect with city fire fighting equipment.

Schelhorn said the investigation here was similar to those being made at other mental institutions in the state.

Gettysburg Address Sold

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln's final copy of his Gettysburg address was sold last night for $54,000 to Oscar B. Cintas, a retired Havana, Cuba, business man.

The manuscript, on three sheets of ordinary blue-lined paper, was penned by Lincoln some time after he made the address in November, 1863.

It was sold at auction at the Parke-Bernet galleries which called the manuscript "the most important American historical document ever offered for public sale in this country."

The galleries said four copies of the famous address are in existence, but the one sold last night is the only one signed, dated and titled by Lincoln.

The manuscript was sold from the estate of the late Dr. William J. A. Bliss, of Baltimore, who received it from his father, Col. William A. Bliss, for whom Lincoln wrote it.

Suggests Fine For Not Calling Firemen

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 28—(AP)—A $100 fine for hotel operators who fail to call the fire department in case of fire, and a $50 fine for individuals who set beds afire by smoking were proposed to the city council today by Fire Chief John Smyth.

The chief said hotels have failed to heed past requests to summon the department at once in the event of fire preferring to use their own equipment rather than risk disturbance of their guests. Such equipment, said Chief Smyth, "is supposed to be used while the fire department is on the way, not before it is called."

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to give the state power to condemn land in Jefferson City for a new state office building.

It authorizes the board of public buildings to acquire the necessary land by gift, purchase or eminent domain (condemnation).

A $2,000,000 appropriation was passed last session to construct the building. Recently, however, it has been suggested with present construction costs it may take $3,000,000.

'Mert,' 5-Week-Old Chicken, Has Four Legs

"Mert," a four-legged chicken, now five weeks old, shows good possibilities of growing up into a nice Sunday dinner of chicken fricassee.

The fowl, owned by Mrs. Harry Yoder, who resides on a farm, nine miles west of Sedalia is just as normal as any other chicken with the exception of having four feet. Mrs. Yoder reports that "Mert" was one out of a flock of 150 chicks hatched five weeks ago last Tuesday.

She said up until recently the chicken had been kept in the house for its own protection. It seems as if "Mert's" brothers and sisters got a kick out of pecking away on the extra pair of legs, but now the freak chicken is capable of taking care of itself and runs lose with the rest of the family inside the brooder house.

Well Developed

It's uncommon to see four legs on chickens, but it has happened before. An expert on chickens said Thursday that this was the first one that he saw that was so well developed.

From the base of the chicken's spine is a stalk composed of flesh and bone which branches out into two separate and distinct pairs of feet. The front set of legs are normal, but the two rear sets are incapable of being moved due to the lack of muscle power.

Perfectly normal toes are on the front set of legs, but the rear feet are composed of immature toes.

St. Louis City Hall Truce in Making

ST. LOUIS, April 28—(AP)—A truce of some kind was in the making at the city hall today and it looked as if the feuding party factions of the board of aldermen might get together soon.

Some of the Democratic and Republican members met together and the Democrats came out smiling. One said "I think we are going to come to terms."

For ten days the board has been deadlocked in a fight over legal qualifications of two newly-elected Democrats. Their votes give the Democrats a 15 to 14 majority.

A Parking Problem

ARDMORE, Okla., April 28—(AP)—Two policemen walking their beats took a second look, then ran for the statute book.

They wanted to know if it was illegal to park an elephant at the curb.

The elephant, belonging to a carnival was left at the curb between cars while the owner went shopping.

The policemen could find nothing out of order—the elephant's owner had put a nickel in the parking meter.

Quits Shanghai

Rear Adm. George Crawford, commander of U. S. Naval forces in the Shanghai area, was ordered to speed from the city to escape a Communist trap that threatened to cut the Whangpoo River, only outlet to the sea. The sudden departure of the fleet left over 2000 Americans stranded in Red-menaced Shanghai.

Follies Girl's Deathbed Note In Court Case

Tells Mother She Has Son; Claims Fields is Father

LOS ANGELES, April 28—(AP)—A Follies girl's "voice from the grave" today accented a man's claim that he is the son of the late W. C. Fields and entitled to a share of the comedian's $771,428 estate

On file in superior court are a deathbed letter written by the showgirl and also letters allegedly written by Fields.

The letters are part of a deposition filed in probate court yesterday in behalf of William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims to be Fields' son. His whereabouts and occupation were not disclosed.

A petition accompanying the deposition said statements in it were made April 16 at Onset, Mass., by Bessie Adelaide Witherell, mother of the Follies girl, Bessie Chatteron Poole.

Petition in Court

Morris filed a petition in superior court here last Feb. 3 to determine heirship in the many-sided contest over the estate of Fields, who died Christmas day, 1946. Morris was not mentioned in Fields' will dated April 28, 1943.

The comedian's long estranged wife, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, who was bequeathed $10,000, is suing for a widow's share in gifts made by Fields.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said her daughter, who died Oct. 8, 1928, was in the Ziegfeld Follies in 1918 or 1919 and that she was infatuated with Fields, and appeared with him in a vaudeville act.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said she first learned of the child's existence in a deathbed letter from her daughter which read:

Note to Mother

"Darling Mother: Well, I am just going to the hospital for an operation and of course I don't expect to die. But in case anything should happen, why I want you and Gram to know I love you. And I have something to tell you.

"I have a son 10 years old who lives with Mrs. Rose Holden, which I want you to take care of and bring up. W. C. Fields is his father. He is named William Rexford Fields Morris. He was born here in New York and I fully believe that Bill will take care of him but in case he does not, why, make him . . ."

If the son was 10 years old when his mother died in 1928, he now would be 31.

Two letters purportedly written by Fields to the Follies girl in 1925 and 1926 and enclosing money, also were filed. The letters made no reference to a son.

Card Fans Bemoan Loss of Dickson

ST. LOUIS, April 28—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinal fans who bemoaned the sale of pitcher Murry Dickson to the Pittsburgh Pirates have even more reason to feel bad today.

The big righthander, facing his old Cardinal teammates for the first time, beat them 7 to 1 last night on seven hits.

Dickson said little about his triumph.

"I just had my stuff," was his only comment.

Cardinal Manager Eddie Dyer readily agreed. Dickson went to the Pirates late in January for a reported $125,000. Dyer registered a strong protest against the sale. He didn't know about it until the deal was over.

The deal was completed just before Robert Hannegan, former postmaster general, sold the Cardinals to Fred Saigh, but was not announced until just after the sale.

Youth Killed In Car Wreck

MT. STERLING, Mo., April 28—(AP)—Keith Sloan 17, of Kansas City, Mo., was killed early today when the car in which he was riding struck guard rails on the bridge over the Gasconade river here.

The state highway patrol reported the automobile was driven east on U. S. 50 by Ted Pickett, Jr., 17 of Kansas City. The report indicated Pickett lost control of the vehicle. It swerved off the highway on one side of the bridge then back to the other side where the guard rail was hit and again to the other side.

Pickett was apparently uninjured, the patrol said.

Increase In Nation's Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO, April 28—(AP)—The nation's traffic deaths for the first quarter of 1949 numbered 6,610, the National Safety Council reported today.

The three-month toll this year was 130 more than for the same period of 1948, an increase of two per cent. However, there were 20 fewer deaths last month than in March last year, the 2,210 total representing a one per cent decline.

The three highest ranking cities in safety for the first three months of this year in each population group, and the number of deaths reported per 10,000 motor vehicles registered include:

200,000-500,000—Oklahoma City, 1.0; Worchester, Mass., 1.0; Newark, N. J. 1.2.

50,000-100,000—Lansing, Mich., Springfield, Mo. and Battle Creek Mich, all 0.0.

Four Teams Have Entered Boys' League

Four teams have entered the Boys' League, a team for the small players in Sedalia, sponsored by the Northeast Athletic club, it was disclosed at a meeting Wednesday night at Jefferson school.

The teams that have joined are: Flyers, of Washington school, managed by Homer Earhart, Junior Blues of Jefferson school, Junior Athletics of Broadway school and Sacred Heart team, managed by Fr. Robert Gaertner.

At the present time the club is consulting other teams to enter so that the play this season will have six teams. The deadline for entering the Boys' League is set at May 7. Managers and persons interested in entering a team are asked to be at the next meeting to be held at Jefferson school, May 11.

During this meeting, the scheduling of games and rules and by-laws will go into effect.

Chiefs Of Ban Johnson League Practice Tonight

The Chiefs hold their first league game May 8, against Mexico. All the teams that compose the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league are having practice sessions and a report shows that stronger and faster teams are expected to compose the league this year.

Sedalia, Mexico, Boonville, Jefferson City, Columbia, Moberly and Chillicothe, which begins play in this league as a freshman taking the place of Marshall and Brookfield, are the teams that make up the Ban Johnson league.

Correct Posture Week May 1-7

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, April 28—Persons and organizations dealing with child health and welfare will be welcomed to participate in National Correct Posture Week programs, May 1 to 7, Dr. L. M. Rogers, executive secretary of the National Chiropractic Association, Health Week sponsors, announced today.

"Training in correct posture, as in so many other valuable things, comes naturally and easily in childhood," Dr. Rogers said. "When faults develop early through incorrect training or no training at all, they are infinitely harder to correct in later life, and we never know when they will leave some lasting injury unless corrected in early life. If we could train just one generation to walk and sit and stand correctly we would render a national health service comparable to the development of public sanitation."

Schools, Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H and similar groups will be asked to participate in programs to demonstrate to the public the relationship of correct posture to good health.

Awards At Minstrel Show

The "Atomic Minstrels" of the Sedalia Shrine club finished their final performance before a full house at the Liberty theater, Thursday evening.

They were presented with loving cup trophies by Miss Margie Struve, director of the show, who was introduced by Herb Studer, the master of ceremonies.

The winners of the "ladies" fashion show were also presented with their awards of merchandise donated by Sedalia merchants. The three winners were Frank Coffman, John T. Loague, and Floyd Knerl. They were chosen by audience applause for the comic "fashion" which they modeled.

The proceeds of the show will go to the fund for the activities of the Sedalia Shrine club.

Barrel Stave For Guidance of Children Upheld by Judiciary

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28—(AP)—The barrel stave as an instrument of child guidance is upheld by a member of the federal judiciary.

He is Federal District Judge Richard M. Duncan.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the Christian Brothers high school last night, he observed:

"A good whanging with a barrel stave, as administered in other days, is better child guidance than any offered by child psychologists today."

Such "old time discipline" he added, brought better results than much of the social work today.

He recalled that 40 years ago when he was a student at Christian Brothers college, forerunner of the present school, it was not uncommon for a brother to divest himself of his black robe and march a culprit to the gymnasium for some "physical education."

"After a youth had been to the gym he came out a rule-abiding student, the judge said. "It is too bad modern educators frown on such methods.

"Parents today have little of any control over their children and there is too little home life."

Bill Introduced Would Permit Teachers to Paddle Students

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—School teachers ought to have the legal right to paddle a naughty pupil, Rep. Clide Lee Jenkins (R) of Miller county said today.

He introduced a bill to put that right in the law books.

Just last Saturday a school principal and superintendent in Jenkins' home county got fined $10 a piece because one of them whipped a 14 year old boy with a walnut paddle. A jury found them guilty of common assault.

Jenkins' bill provides that a teacher has the right to keep discipline. It reads in part:

"Any such teacher may inflict reasonable physical punishment or restraint upon any pupil who defies the teacher, or the rules and regulations of the board of education, or who intentionally tries to demoralize the school by swearing, fighting or other obnoxious and obscene speech or conduct."

Jenkins said there is no adequate Missouri law now.

In a statement he added:

"If the school teachers in this state cannot discipline their pupils 'if necessary, to the tune of a hickory stick' the teaching profession had just as well fold up, move out and turn our school over to the pupils.

"When I was a youngster," he recalled, "if I got a whipping in school, regardless of what the reason might be, I also got one at home . . .

"But nowadays if a child is given a whipping in school it is usually necessary for the teacher to give the child's parents a whipping also."

Leland O. Mills, superintendent of the School of the Osage, Lake Ozark, Mo., and Burl Henderson, principal, were fined $10 each for paddling Dale Jeffries. They said Dale wrote some bad words in a school book. Dale said he didn't. His parents took it to court.

Postpone Road Program Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, April 28—(AP)—The House won't argue over a pending state road program bill any more this week.

The representatives decided instead to wait until next Tuesday before going further on the road problem.

For three hours yesterday the House worked over the measure recommended by Gov. Forrest Smith as a way to get rural Missouri out of the mud by doubling the two-cent gasoline tax. One major change was made before the House adjourned for the day.

It took most of the power away from county courts.

Rep. C. P. Turley (D) of Carter county said county courts don't know how to build roads and don't have the equipment, anyway. He said his change would put overall supervision in the hands of the state highway commission "where it belongs."

Cripples Measure

But the bill's sponsor, Rep. Milton Duvall (D) of Pike county, said it crippled the measure. Duvall is chairman of the House roads and highways committee.

The amendment as adopted also gives the state highway commission the task of maintaining rural roads taken into the state system. Thus the bill now calls for doubling the present gasoline tax of two cents a gallon and authorizes the highway commission to spend one cent of the increase on county roads.

Large Amount Of 1948 Corn Stored

WASHINGTON, April 28—(AP)—The agriculture department reported today that farmers had stored 295,913,000 bushels of 1948-crop corn under the government's price support program through March 31.

They also had stored 23,270,000 100-pound bags of grain sorghum under that same program.

Growers in most areas have until June 30 to take advantage of the corn support program.

Iowa ranked first in the amount of corn under the support program — the amount being about 117,000,000 bushels.
